Stations to Pool New TV Network for Peace Signing

By TOM DANSON

HOLLYWOOD — What started out to be a rush among television stations for exclusive rights to the A. T. & T. San Francisco-Los Angeles microwave relay line for the Japanese peace conference has worked out to become a pool for all stations in this area. First to make the announcement of exclusive rights for the telecast was Columbia Broadcasting System, which has arranged to give Tviewers this show over KTSL from the opening day, Sept. 4 through Sept. 7. They dropped the ball, however when the actual signing was announced for Saturday, Sept. 8, which was immediately picked up by the American Broadcasting Co. for showing over their station KECA.

In a meeting of all of the Los Angeles channels, the pool problem was discussed, and because of the great interest as a public service, and the fact that President Truman will be on hand to officiate, an exclusive was hardly in order.

The confusion and fuss involving the television stations in this particular program, brings back memories of the same nature during the "fight" for exclusives when MacArthur returned to the United States, landing in the bay city. This also, after many heated arguments, became a pool with a semico-operative attitude taken by most of the stations. KTLA, channel 5, was so intent upon not being "out scooped" on this MacArthur show, that they had complete plans formulated to create their own line from San Francisco to Los Angeles, and would have done so, had not a pool finally been agreed to.

Questioning of other networks and stations, prior to the Wednesday meeting, revealed an attitude of "simply waiting for a gentlemanly agreement between all concerned, allowing all channels to cover this historic and public service event."

DOWN TV-RADIO ROW . . . Not too much of a surprise is the announcement that the KTLA ice show, "Frosty Frolics" is going coast-to-coast by means of film, beginning Sept. 7. After this showing, the show moves to Wednesday (Sept. 12) because of the return of Harry Owens and his show to the KTLA fold. An interesting note is that Ina Ray Hutton was a summer replacement for Owens two years ago same as the "Frosty" show, and has been with the station ever since. It's a good luck omen to be a summer replacement for Harry Owens, from the looks of things.

DIAL-LITES . . . More adventure with Brian Donlevy during "Dangerous Assignment" over KFI at 6 . . . All of the L. A. Rams' games will be aired by KMPC this season, starting with tonight's Chicago Bear game at 8:15 . . . Sen. John J. Sparkman (D.-Ala.) will be the interview guest on KHJ's Reporter's Roundup at 8:30 . . . "The Tip-Off Man" meets the "FBI in Peace and War" from KNX at 9 . . . A new documentary dealing with the problems of alcoholism will be aired by ABC-owned stations starting tonight at 9:30 from KECA.

Lakewood Group Fills Recreation Position

John Pares has been appointed committee chairman of the Lakewood Park, Recreation and Parkway District by the Lakewood Taxpayers Association. He succeeds Robert Fowler.

The association appointed Art Hooker and W. L. Sudenga to vacancies on its policy committee.

Truman Talk Opens TV Net

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

Advanced opening of coast to coast television to coincide with the start of the Japanese treaty conference at San Francisco on Sept. 4 is producing a number of changes in plans.

The first telecast will be President Truman's address officially opening the conference, listed for 7:30 p. m. Sept. 4. It will be carried by the four TV networks—NBC, CBS, ABC and DuMont—on a pool basis. It is to be followed by other relays continuing through Sept. 8 for the actual treaty signing.

For the duration of the conference the new circuit is to be operated west to east on a temporary conditional basis. Thereafter it will be turned back to the engineering crew of A. T. & T., builders of the micro-wave link which connects the San Francisco-Los Angeles relay to Omaha and the rest of the network.

They intend to devote the remainder of the month to realigning the equipment for regular commercial broadcast use, which is to get under way by the time of the World Series in October, operating east to west. Then it will be another month before full two-way TV transmission will be normal.

Under these arrangements, while the first telecast will be the formal presentation of President Truman's address, it is expected the World Series will serve as the means of introducing the circuit to commercial broadcast service. The advanced opening, made at the request of the State Department because of the historical significance of the treaty conference, has necessitated a speedup of preparations to enable the best possible operation. Actually the new circuit got under way for telephone use last week end, but with television calling for more exacting adjustments additional time is needed to get ready for it.

Preliminary plans for the telecasting of the political conventions next summer, the fourth time for these events, indicated that as usual they will get the right of way on the air. Facilities will be such that both the Republican and Democratic meetings taking place in Chicago, can be seen coast to coast direct.

Cost of transmitting the conventions, including radio relay for the eighth time, has been estimated at upwards of $6,000,000, counting refunds to sponsors whose programs may be cancelled.

The first convention radio cast was in 1924, including the "24 votes for Underwood" assembly of the Democrats in New York. The first telecast was the Republican convention in Philadelphia in 1940.

SUCCESS STORY

Grad Fulfills Class Prophecy

CHICAGO, Aug. 23. (AP) When Frank E. Martin was graduated from Newton, Ill., High School in 1913, the class prophecy read:

"Frank Martin will become vice president of the Illinois Central Railroad and some day he'll come back to see us in his office car and he's going to invite members of his old high school class to have dinner with him."

Part of the prophecy has come true. Martin became vice president of the Illinois Central Railroad Friday—elected by the directors.

He had worked for the IC for three months during his 1912 summer vacation as an apprentice machinist at the Waterloo, Iowa, shops. He went back to work for the road right after he got out of high school, and worked up from a bill clerk in the freight house at Evansville, Ind., to his current post as vice president and comptroller.

Martin, 56, said he hopes to complete the class prophecy soon and invite the 1913 graduating class to a reunion.

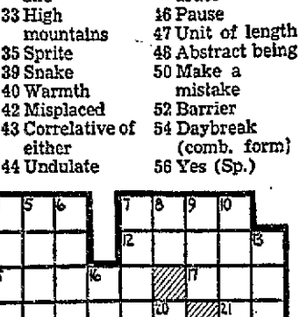
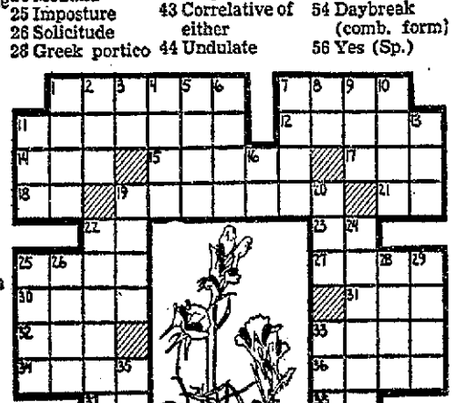
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Let's Explore Your Mind

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

Yes. So can other profound emotional shocks or frustrations. They may cause hysterical deafness, paralyzed limbs, blindness, stuttering, amnesia, etc. Paraphrasing psychologist James Page's "Abnormal Psychology," hysteria is an effort—usually unconscious—to escape facing reality and to invent plausible symptoms to explain inadequacy and inability to "stand" disappointment and suffering. In hysteria the nerves running to the brain are perfectly healthy, but the brain refuses to accept and correctly interpret their reports.

Answer to Question No. 2

In a sense, yes, because the IQ (Intelligence Quotient) is an average of a lot of separate abilities. You may be high in mechanics, low in vocabulary, high in music, or vice-versa. There is a strong tendency for high and low abilities each to bunch together, but everybody has "strong points." The usual "IQ" refers to the Terman-Revision IQ Tests given to children. They show the teacher where to start a child in school studies.

Answer to Question No. 3

Nearly all the problems of the world have been solved by people who possessed uncommon sense. When we say people should use their common sense we really mean they should think out the causes and use every possible fact that bears on the situation. Lincoln said "people usually wobble right." But they do so only when they use high intelligence to follow some outstanding leader who has uncommon sense. Common, average, everyday sense is the most wobbly, undependable thing in the world.

the table that leads a double life!

It is actually two tables in one! A spacious drop-leaf cocktail table with the leaves up or down and, by simply lifting the counter balanced top, it can be raised to standard dining height, (36"x36" top) to serve four, for dining, bridge or games. So versatile! So convenient in the small apartment . . . equally smart and appropriate in any home. Built of select northern oak in a soft grey-beige finish.

$97.50

If you require a larger size, this table is also made with center extension which opens to 38"x4." In modern or 18th Century design, in blond or dark mahogany.
