TIP O' THE MORNING: Expect a strong revival of "Sentimental Journey" as the result of the smart pairing of the Ames brothers and Les Brown's orchestra on a new disc.

Frank Mayfield, farm director of WIBA and WIBA-FM for the last four years, has been appointed farm radio-director for Oscar Mayer and Co. Roy Ormond, the company's farm service director, said that Mayfield will continue the company's program of broad-casting agricultural news and helps and will assist in preparing printed information and in conducting live stock clinics and farm meetings.

Mayfield is a graduate of Platteville State college and was a high school principal and teacher of vocational agriculture for 10 years before entering radio.

John J. Coyle, former Madison singer who appeared regularly on WISN, will be seen and heard on WBKB (television channel 4) at 8:30 tonight.

Cornelia Otis Skinner, Margaret Webster, and Director Maurice Gnesin of the Goodman Memorial theater will be judges of a $1,000 contest for full-length plays conducted by the Goodman theater.

You can get details by writing to "Goodman Memorial Theater, Art Institute of Chicago, Chicago, Ill." Deadline is Dec. 15.

Gene Warner and Connie Connor, song and dance team; Ruth Bergum and Pierre Slightam, singers; and Joan Taliaferro and Dorothy Lenahan, dancers, will perform for members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles at 7 p. m. Friday.

FILM FARE: Edith Gwynn, State Journal correspondent, reports from Hollywood.

We're not supposed to know it, but producer Sam Katman, usually associated with cliff-hanging serials, has a sensational feature on tap. Remember "the little wild boy" discovered in Texas in April, 1949? He was dubbed "the Texas Tarzan" when wire-service photos snapped him catching rabbits with his bare hands in the unpopulated timberland where he lived like an animal. Katman wants to film the story of this lad, who was 14 when found but couldn't speak. At the age of 4, he had run to the woods and stayed away from his poverty-stricken family (who never bothered to find him) and all other people. He is now in a school for deaf-mutes at Austin, Tex. Katman figures this yarn is in public domain; but we understand someone already has the screen right to it. That's THEIR problem — it should make a mighty interesting picture.

Don't get excited over reports that Ava Gardner and Clark Gable went fishing together at Lake Tahoe. Few know it, but these two had a short-lived "romance" some time ago—and it has long, long since become a pleasant plink.

Title of the B'way show that Bob Cummings and Ann Southern are rehearsing started out as "The Philommon Complex," became "Too Much Love," and is now, "Faithfully Yours"—or is it?

Time out while we yell, "Viva Jane Wyman!"—for her so-great performance in "The Blue Veil." More vivas for Charles Laughton and Cyril Cusack, who were superb. Dick Carlson, Aggie Moorehead—in fact all in the huge cast rate raves.

Oops! Two famous film-tom felines just returned from points east where they had face-lifts. They're chums — but neither knew the other was also getting the plastic overhaul. We get them both last night. Very good jobs! Albert Dekker has turned 50 acres of his Ocean-side rancho into a gladiolus farm. It's a two-way money crop. After the flowers are marketed, the bulbs bring in more dollars.

At the risk of your yawns: John Gunther has finished "Carliotta," the script he and Garbo were gabbing about months ago. Now, for the 1947-54th time, G. G. has the usual 10 days to let Metro know if she'll make it as her "comeback picture." (This has been going on for years.

We were called a witch when we said, "Hokey!" to those phony Pedy Lamarr retirement items. She gave us a head-ache with more baloney and the over-publicized (and perhaps overstocked) auction of her possessions, supposedly to obliterate the past so she could live abroad with her groom, Ted Stauffer—far from flicker-making. So what? So now Lamarr starts another movie in Mexico City Oct. 1; it's "The Gentle Killer."

HIT-SKIP HORSE SOUGHT — COLUMBUS, O.—(U.P.)—Sheriff's deputies are on the alert for a hit-skip horse. Mrs. Opal Queen reported that she slowed her car to avoid hitting the animal but it reared and kicked out the windshield and dented the hood and a fender.

Hotel Employee's Tip Leads to Thief's Arrest

MILWAUKEE —(AP)—A downtown hotel elevator supervisor aided police Wednesday in the capture of a man who admitted robbing six drugstores and a theater here in the past three months. Arrested at the Milwaukee road depot was Richard Rigenhagen, 21, who admitted the holdups, including one Tuesday night, officers said. Rigenhagen was picked up after Bertha Schwab, the hotel employee, recognized him in the lobby. She trailed him to a downtown intersection and pointed him out to a policeman.
