If South is a sound bidder, the chances are that he has good spades and that East, consequently, cannot have too much in that suit.

If South is a "sporting" bidder, East may have two or more natural spade tricks.

In most games I would bid with the West hand.

In some games I would pass. It would depend on who the players were and what mood I thought they were in. So far I have been rather vague, but the time has come to make a definite statement. If West does enter the bidding, he has to stay He can't stand for a double of four spades-whether or not North
