LOOKING AND LISTENING

World Series, Football Rival Saturday Afternoon

By TOM E. DANSON

World series baseball and college football will be competing for attention on both the radio and the TV networks Saturday afternoon, but baseball gets the edge because it starts earlier.

Television football will have the first of four coast-to-coast broadcasts in the nine-week schedule of games under regulations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Radio will have its usual quota of games. In order of appearance here are the events:

KTSL to Change Call to KNXT

The Federal Communications Commission has approved an application made by the Columbia Broadcasting System to change the call letter of the network's Los Angeles television station, Channel 2, from KTSL to KNXT, Wilbur Edwards, station manager, announced today.

"The change in call letters will be made the day that the station begins operation of its transmitter atop Mt. Wilson late this month, Edwards added.

"The change in call letters will more easily, quickly and closely identify KNXT as the Columbia Broadcasting System Television Network outlet in Los Angeles," Edwards stated.

KNXT's channel number will remain "2". This is the same channel number used by WGBS-TV, CBS' television station in New York City.

KNXT, the nation's first television station, began operations on Dec. 23, 1931, as an experimental station and was known as W6XAO. It was licensed to telecast commercially on May 6, 1948, as KTSL and viewdowed its first sponsored program that same day.

The station went on the air on a one-hour per day, six days per week schedule on Dec. 23, 1931. Sunday operations began that October. The station's schedule now calls for more than 10 hours of programming per week.
