Wisconsin's highway planners are taking to the air to help them decide what changes should be made in the course of Highway 12 between the Illinois state line and

The aerial work, first long-distance survey in the state, will be made by the Abrams Aerial Surwade by the Abrams Aerial Survey Corp., Lansing, Mich., and will start in a few days. It will be finished in about a month, with two planes based at Madison doing the

(The Taliesin Fellowship will present a demonstration of the work of Georges Gurdjieff, directed by Iovanna Lloyd Wright, in the Unitarian meeting house, 800 University Bay dr., at 8 p. m. Tuesday. This guest column was written by the noted Wisconsin architect who conducts the Taliesin school.)

By FRANK LLOYD WRIGHT

This occasion is for us at Taliesin a particular celebration.
In Paris two years ago the philosopher, Georges Gurdjieff.
died. He, one day, will be of great value to our West if with persistent intelligence we strive to understand his work.

The firm's $11.831 contract, approved by Gov. Walter Kohler Friday, calls for aerial photos of 570 square miles in the Highway 12 area and also of 14 square miles along Highways 30 and 16 in two townships in Waukesha county.
