Suit Over Proposed Theater Plans Settled
An $8,750 suit started by Harold C. Balch, 610 Leonard st., an architect, for fees he claimed were due him for designing a proposed theater at University and Highland aves., was settled in circuit court Monday afternoon for $5,500. Balch claimed A. J. Fiore, 654 Pickford st., head of the Fiore Coal and Oil Co., and L. F. Gran, Milwaukee, representatives of the Standard Theaters Management, contracted him from September to December, 1948, to draw up plans for the proposed theater. In the settlement, Fiore agreed to pay Balch, $1,500, and Gran agreed to pay him $4,000. Circuit Judge Herman W. Sachtlein approved the stipulation.

Death Damage Case Testimony Starts
A circuit court jury will begin hearing testimony today in a $15,377 suit started by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patridge, 1818 Aberg ave., against the Wisconsin Power and Light Co. for the death of their 9-year-old twin son, Ronald, who was electrocuted Aug. 25, 1950, on a high line tower near their home.

Officer's Widow Gets Review of Slaying
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Brunette Yvette Madsen Monday was granted a supreme court review of her conviction for the murder of her army officer husband in the American zone of Germany.

Excuse Works
PROVIDENCE, R. I. — (AP) — Armando Boichat escaped a speeding fine in court when he explained he was hurrying to get two chickens so a sick friend could have some broth.

The Brooklyn-born widow was tried by a U.S. district court for the Allied high commission in Germany. Her lawyers contend such a court could not legally try an American citizen. However, the U.S. circuit court in Richmond, Va., ruled that federal law clearly provides for trial of dependents of occupation personnel by courts set up by the occupying power.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby

A little learning is a dangerous thing in bridge as in anything else. The other day I saw a couple of good players butcher a defense in a way that simply wouldn't occur to average players.

West opened the king of diamonds, and East very properly played the queen. His motive was very simple and very correct. He wanted West to continue the diamonds.

Any average West would understand what was expected of him. He would lead a second round of diamonds, forcing dummy to ruff. After that, declarer could huff and could puff, but he couldn't capture East's king of trumps.

He would be unable to take two trump finesses with only one trump left in the dummy. However, West was no average defender.

He had heard about the "suit preference" signal, and he was one of the players who like to work a good thing to death.

West said to himself: "My partner is trying to indicate which suit to shift to. A high diamond means the higher side suit (hearts), while a low diamond means the lower side suit (clubs)."

So West shifted to a heart, and South proceeded to wrap up the slam and the rubber. South ruffed the heart, got to dummy with a club, and led the eighth of spades from dummy.

The eight of spades rode around successfully, and dummy continued with the three of spades. South won the second trump finesse with the queen, drew the last trump with the ace, and then ran the clubs to discard his losing diamonds.

The difference between the sensible defense and West's brain-storm was 1530 points. What's more, this sort of thing is being done all over the country in the name of the higher skill.

There is a place for the suit preference signal. When you lead a card for your partner to ruff, you can lead high to show that your entry is in the high side suit, or you lead low to show that your entry is in the low side suit.

There are even one or two other ways to use suit preference, but don't dream of using it on a simple follow-suit play.

In that situation, a high card should mean, "Lead the suit again partner." A low card should mean, "Don't lead the suit again unless you have a very good reason of your own."

Three Suits Filed Seeking $137,500 Total in Damages
Injury awards totaling $137,500 were demanded in three Madison federal suits filed Monday.

Samuel C. Bills, Madison, asked $40,000 from the London and Lancashire Co. of America and the Alistair Insurance Co. His complaint charged that Lelah Rae Hoesig, driver of the Badger cab in which he was a passenger, drove negligently when the cab collided with a car driven by Delos M. Lindsey at Mound and S. Park sts., July 21.

Nora Merrill, Shaker Heights, O., demanded $50,000 from the Great American Indemnity Co. of New York for permanent injuries, suffered, she charged, June 14, 1949, when a car driven by Albin Koch, Minocqua, in which she was a passenger, overturned on Highway 11, between Westfield and Coloma.

Monica Tillman, Minocqua, sought $47,500 from the Great American Indemnity Co. of New York for permanent injuries, suffered, she charged, June 14, 1949, when a car driven by Albin Koch, Minocqua, in which she was a passenger, overturned on Highway 11, between Westfield and Coloma.

Forest Glenn Carney, 27-year-old ex-convict from Wyanona, who stole a detective's car from in front of police headquarters Sunday night, pleaded guilty to car theft charges Monday in superior court.

Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor sent him to jail to await sentence and recommended that the state department of public welfare re-open the year's probation Carney was placed on seven months ago in Portage for stealing a car there.

Carney said he suffered from migraine headaches, one of which occurred Sunday night, and he did not remember stealing the police car.

He was arrested by Officer William Watry at Wilton and Broom sts. with the stolen car, less than half an hour after he took it. Carney was in an Illinois prison for six years and three months of a three-to-10-year sentence given him in 1942 in Rockford for car theft there.
