

TIP O' THE MORNING: Wisconsin's Hildegarde will be among the guests on "The Big Show" (NBC-WIBA) at 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

To avoid conflicting with the annual public schools' Christmas pageant in the state capitol, the Madison Civic Music assn. has changed the time of its performance of "The Mes-

The Handel oratorio will be performed at 8 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 16, in the Masonic auditorium. It has been planned for afternoon.

The pageant will be at 4:30 and 5:15 p. m.

HOLLYWOOD PLAYERS: The Little Hollywood Players will give "10 Nights in a Barroom" as an after-basketball attraction Saturday night. The melodrama will begin at Club Hollywood at 10:15, with dancing before and after the show

DANCING MASTERS: The Dancing Masters of Wisconsin, Inc. will observe its 30th anniversary at a meeting to be held Sunday, Jan. 20, at the studio of Julia Kuhlig in Milwaukee. Leo T. Kehl, Madison, is president of the organization. Other officers are Adele Artinian, Milwaukee, vice-president; Goldie Gellman, Milwaukee, secretary; Lois Martens, Milwaukee, treasurer, and Edna Christensen, Racine, education director.

The Duncing Masters have organized the "Wisconsin Ballet Guild," with executives of the former group as officers the latter. Local Guilds are planned throughout the state.

AT CENTRAL: "Mother Is a Freshman," Central high school's fall play, will be given at 8 p. m. Saturday in the school auditorium, Mrs. Carol Sturm is in charge of the production.

Donna Feggestad will appear as the mother who is trying to get a college scholarship for her daughter, portrayed by Jane Wheeler. Others in the cast will be Dick Fuller, as an egotistical athlete; Kent Siegel, as a handsome zoology professor; Georgian Schieg, Mae Wein, Rose Starkus, Frances Fiore, Helen Duane, Sharon Linde, Ralph Waggoner, Patsy Loos, Joel Liska, Jim Bly, and Peter Guzzetta.

FILM FARE: George Fisher, substituting for Correspondent Edith Gwynn, writes from Hollywood . . .
