Bill Doudna's Art Exhibit

TIP OF THE MORNING: If you want to hear some of the best high school musicians in the southern half of Wisconsin, be at Music hall at 7:30 tonight for the All-Star concert of the state solo-ensemble festival.

SEVEN teachers, students, and alumni of the University of Wisconsin will be represented in "Exhibition Momentum," annual juried show to be held May 12 to June 9 in the gallery of Werner's book store, Chicago.

They are: Alfred Sessler, associate professor of art education; Dean Meeker, assistant professor of art education; Abe Cohn, Waukesha, and Jack Tiffany, Madison, alumni; Bob Burkert, senior from Racine; Robert Nelson, senior from Okeo, and Peter Sinclair, junior from Milwaukee.

The show will consist of 147 works by artists from 18 states.

AT OSHKOSH: Two members of the Wisconsin Idea Theater staff will work with community drama leaders at the theater workshop to be held Sunday in Oshkosh. They are Ronald Gee and Prof. Edward L. Kamarok, assistant directors.

Others on the instructional staff will include: Betty Jean Bender, Madison; Mrs. Norman Robl, Oshkosh; Mrs. Nathan Cohen, Fond du Lac; Kenneth Abrahamson, Ashland; John Bryan, Sheboygan; Mrs. Lee Miller, Oshkosh; Dr. M. L. Richdorf, Sheboygan; F. Theodore Cloak, Appleton; Daniel Miller, West Bend; Robert Bastiani, Milwaukee; Marvin Sykes, Ashland; Joe Kirkish, Madison; Karl Schmitz, Manitowoc; Mary Gage, Green Bay; representatives from Antigo and Winnebago Players; Mrs. Arno Nonweiler, Oshkosh; Herbert Selissen, Green Bay; John F. Sillers, Appleton, and Lewis Stoerker, Ripon.

The evening session will include a play reading of "The Browning Version" by Terence Rattigan.

TO WYOMING: The Pro Arte quartet will return to Laramie, Wyo., this summer as visiting artists in the fourth annual summer program in the creative arts at the University of Wyoming.

Members of the quartet—Rudolf Kolisch, first violin; Albert Bahier, second violin; Bernard Milofsky, viola, and Ernst Friedlander, cello—spent the summer of 1950 on the creative arts staff.

This summer they will collaborate in teaching a course in chamber music literature and in presenting a number of formal and informal programs representing a complete survey of string quartet music.

Under the chairmanship of Allan Willman of the Wyoming division of music, the staff will include poet Richard Wilbur, Novelist-Historian Walter Haverhurst, Artists Paul Burlin and James M. Boyle, and Stage and Television Producer John Reich.

CHILDREN'S THEATER: Here are some further details on the convention of the Children's Theater Conference of America, to be held Aug. 28-30 at the University of Wisconsin.

Dorothy Schwartz, Birmingham, Ala., is program chairman for the convention. Kenneth G.raham, Minneapolis, is chairman of the Children's Theater conference.

The program will include plays presented by Wisconsin Players; the Orchard Hill theater of Barbou; the Milwaukee Players, and the Municipal Drama Workshop of Milwaukee; addresses, panels, discussion groups, and an excursion to Wisconsin Dells and Devils Lake.

Speaker at the closing dinner will be Oteda Schrotky, director of the special services section of the Girl Scouts of America.

Wisconsin participants on various programs will include Robert Friedland, Milwaukee; Robert Filman, Milwaukee; Prof. Gladys Ruchers, Madison; and Carrie Rasmussen, Madison.

ON THE AIR: The Northwestern Reviewing Stand's panel Sunday will include Prof. Richard Hart, chairman of the geography department at the University of Wisconsin. To be heard on WGN at 9:30 a. m., the panel will discuss "Soviet Imperialism and What It Means to Us."

Also in the group will be Prof. Gordon East of the University of London, who will speak in Madison on May 14.

Hartshorn will stay in Evanston, Ill., through Monday to discuss political geography with East at Northwestern seminar.

U. S. Says 5 Men, 2 Firms Cheated VA on School Supplies

DALLAS, Tex.—The Government revealed Friday that three Texans, two Chicago men and two Chicago corporations have been charged with cheating the Veterans Administration on supplies for watchmaking schools operated by two of the Texans.

William Cantrell, assistant U.S. district attorney in charge of the Dallas office, said he has personally tabulated $10,000 the government lost because the two Chicago firms and a Tyler, Tex., supply firm submitted "collusive and fraudulent" bids.

"That is only a small portion of it," he said.

The indictments were returned by a federal grand jury in Fort Worth, Tex., last Saturday.

Those charged were J. W. Caruthers, owner of the Caruthers School of Horology (watchmaking) at Tyler and the Waco, Tex., College of Horology; his brother, H. D. Caruthers, of the Waco School; Walter Bachus, operator of the Trojan Watch and Tool Supply Co. of Tyler; J. K. Marshall of Chicago, president of the C. & E. Marshall Co.; Ray C. Wolf, vice-president; the firm itself, and the U.S. Jewelry Supply Co. of Chicago, which Cantrell said was controlled by a trustee for benefit of Marshall's grandchildren.

Pacts Accepted, Rockford Papers Again Published

ROCKFORD, Ill. — (U.P.) — The Rockford Consolidated Newspapers, Inc., resumed publishing Friday afternoon after reaching agreement on a new contract with the AFL International Typographical Union (ITU).

The Register-Republic brought out an eight-page afternoon edition. Both the Register-Republic and the morning Star had been published for two weeks.

Members of ITU Local 213 voted Thursday night to approve the new contract. Final settlement, however, was held up until members of the CIO American Newspaper Guild voted unanimously later to accept a new contract of their own.

The ITU contract included a clause governing the use of teleprinter tape sent by wire services. The issue of the teleprinter clause touched off a work stoppage by ITU employees Mar. 24.

THIEF ENTERS HOME

Mrs. William Steuber, 2210 Lakeland ave., reported to police Friday morning that $5 had been stolen from her purse in the living room at her home by a thief who sneaked in since 10 a. m. Thursday.
