Bill Deedna's

SPOTLIGHT Theater Guild

TIP OF THE MORNING: Fred Capostola, who did such a fine job with the Kentucky Derby, will be back on the CBS-WKOW microphones for the Preakness Stakes at 3 p. m. Saturday.

A MERRY PLAY ABOUT A mild-mannered man who becomes a criminal because of the goodness of his heart brings the Madison Theater Guild's sixth season to a close. It is "Mr. Barry's Etchings," presented Thursday night at West high school. It will be repeated there at 8:15 tonight and at 8:15 p. m. Saturday in East high school.

Besides giving its audience a lot of fun, "Mr. Barry's Etchings" brought Director Al Barracough to the footlights. Circumstances handed him the leading role only last Sunday, and he came through with a striking performance.

This was the second time within a week in which a substitution had to be made in a leading role. On Tuesday, Marie Ianni became ill and Phyllis Peterson stepped into her part in "King John" at the Wisconsin Union theater. Miss Ianni returned to the cast Thursday night.

The Guild comedy was the source of the movie, "Mr. 880." Its plot reputedly was based on fact.

In it, a well-traveled artist settles down in the old home town and, in odd moments, improves on the government version of the $50 bill. Moved by charitable impulses, he uses his realistic money to help elect a mayor, buy up park land, build a hospital, and complete a statue.

Professionals try to chisel in and a treasury agent captures them. Mr. Barry confesses and goes to trial.

Barracough makes Mr. Barry a thoroughly likable guy, modest about his talent and his experience, and kind to everybody except the village miser. Stage-wise, he does better than most of the cast in letting his laugh lines win their full support of the audience, and this in spite of the difficulty of his situation.

Les Meinhardt, as a nervous gangster, and Ruth Foster, as the T-man's baby-talking helper, give little gems of comedy performance, as does Joan Barracough as the overbearing Mrs. Griswold.

Jean Day and Rex Rucker team up well in the romantic leads, and Eleanor Grant is back in her familiar role of the fluttery scatterbrain. Mr. Barry's sister, Margot Herriott handles the dry wit of Carrie Stanwick perfectly; Lois Klein is a suitably brassy gang leader, and Russell Shank gets laughs satirizing a movie producer.

But it's mostly Barracough's show, in both direction and acting.

EVENING OF SONG: The Anderson quartet of DeForest will be among the ensembles and soloists appearing with the Lutheran Student A Cappella choir in an "Evening of Song" at 8 tonight in the Fellowship hall, 228 Langdon st.

The Rev. A. Henry Hetland, student pastor, will conduct the 50-voice chorus. Its numbers will include "Lost in the Night," "Praise to the Lord," "In Heaven Above," "O Praise Ye," Gretchaninoff's "Credo," "Jesus, the Very Thought of Thee," and "Balm in Gilead."

The Anderson quartet is composed of a mother and three sons. Other performers will be Ruth and William Druckenmiller, flute duo; Luanne Milward, violinist; Tony Jacobsen, baritone, and a string quartet.

Karl Andersen will be master of ceremonies.

NEW RECORD: "The Greatest Show on Earth," which opened May 7 at the Capitol theater, has set two records at that playhouse.

By the end of its first week, it had played to more people than any other picture in the Capitol's history and had rolled up the highest gross ticket sales—despite the fact that admission prices were raised only slightly at night, not at all for matinee.

The Cecil B. DeMille spectacle had been slated to close next Tuesday, but Manager Fred Reeth said Thursday that he would keep it playing beyond that date.

NICE-WORK-IF-YOU-CAN-GET-IT DEPT: The Wisconsin Alumnus says that "Loring Dahl Knecht is acting head of the romance department at St. Olaf college."

DISCS OF THE DAY: If you want music as background for your dinner at home, try Columbia's new "Quiet Music" series—12-inch long-playing discs designed for just that purpose.

There are six volumes, of which I have received No. 2. This one has music by the Dell trio, the Columbia Salon orchestra, violinist Lionel McMorrow, Humberto Morales and his Rhythms, and organist Don Baker.

Among the tunes are "Laura," "Sleeping Beauty Waltz," Toselli's "Serenade," "Alt Wien," "Diane," and "Southern Roses."

They're fine for relaxing.

EXTENSION STUDENTS: Elizabeth Nalbandian, Racine soprano who opened the "Music of Wisconsin" series on WHA and the state network, will be among the University Extension center students appearing at 3:30 p. m. today in Music hall.

Seven students from five centers will give the recital, first of its kind on the Wisconsin campus.

Besides Miss Nalbandian, they are Jack Kunish, Manitowoc; Patricia Ryan, Wausau; Patricia Timm, Kenosha, and Edward Vorel, Kenosha, vocalists; Arlene Henke, Appleton, flutist, and Wayne Handold, Manitowoc, pianist.

RECITAL: Piano and violin pupils from the classes of Olive Colman, Marvel Gasser, Elsie Long, Shirley Tottingham, and Adelaide Vroman will give a recital at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in Esther Vilas hall. All study at the Wisconsin School of Music.

On the program will be: Christine Anderson, Don Anderson, Keith Anderson, John Aspies, Jimmy Bade, Dorothy Jane Bartz, John Burrows, Clarice Conner, Annetta Crabtree, Joanne Crabtree, Billie Dalh, Marilyn Dvorak, Colleen Fahy, Ronald Fagerstrom, Dee Ann Foust, Cynthia Gordon, Warren Hoffer, Lois Jackson, Gene Kleinsmith, Arthur Lempe, Mary Lou Lexwood, Danny Murray, Judy Novick, Marilyn Rappley, Betsy Runkel, Chuckie Runkel, Robin Tanner, Nancy Vig, Patty Weckerly, Mary Weckerly, Mary Westover, Donna Williams, and Joanne Williams.

BOYS' TOWN ALUMNUS: Sammy Madden, whose orchestra will play Sunday, May 25, at Turner hall, is a graduate of Boys' Town, Nebr.

Madden was born in Italy and came to the United States when he was 11, joining his parents in Greenwood, Nebr. Five days after his arrival, Sammy's mother died. The boy went to the Father Flanagan home—Boys' Town. There he studied music and toured as a member of the Boys' Town band.

At 17, Sammy graduated and formed his own orchestra.

Greedy Psychology Called Productive of Mental Problems

CHICAGO (AP)—A psychiatrist asserted Thursday that the psychology of trying to get "more and more for doing less and less" leads to mental troubles in old age.

Dr. Robert C. McMillan of Chicago also contended that the great majority of mental disorders found in old age are not incurable senility but can be corrected by treatment.

In a paper prepared for the 112th annual meeting of the Ill-
