
TIP O' THE MORNING: Beginning today, WFOW will broadcast home games of the University of Wisconsin baseball team.

* * *

A LOVELY BIT OF DELIUS AND A spontaneous playing of Johann Strauss' "Perpetual Motion" highlighted the second half of the concert which the University of Wisconsin Symphony orchestra presented Thursday night in Music hall.

From a listener of authority, I learned that the orchestra gave an expert and lively reading of Dvorak's "Slavonic Dance No. 1" and an adequate playing of a far less interesting suite from Purcell's "Comus" in the first half.

The Delius music was an intermezzo from "Fennimore and Gerda." Prof. Richard Church's string and woodwind sections played the quiet, flowing, and frequently ethereal piece with the persuasion of professionals.

Again in the Strauss encore, the woodwinds starred—even the piccolo had its chance.

Jean Pfefferkorn, senior from Waupun, was the evening's soloist. She sang two familiar "Carmen" arias in a voice whose quality was especially good in the lower and middle registers and with knowing use of it. But one felt that she could have made a better choice of music to show that voice at its best.

The university music school's observance of National Music Week will continue at 8 tonight with a recital by Eugene Schweitzer, cellist, in Music hall. He will be assisted by Harriet Chase, pianist, and the orchestra.

AFTERTHOUGHT: When you see "The Greatest Show on Earth" at the Capitol theater, watch for familiar faces in the views of the circus audiences. Among the spectators you'll find Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, and a host of minor actors who have flitted through other pictures. Some of the best scenes in the Cecil DeMille spectacle are these audience shots.

* * *

ORGAN RECITAL: Miriam Bellville, organist and choirmaster of the University Presbyterian church, will give an organ recital at 7 p. m. Sunday in the church.

BELLVILLE

Miss Bellville received her master's degree from the school of sacred music of Union Theological seminary, New York City, where she studied with Dr. Clarence Dickinson, Dr. T. Tertius Noble, Dr. Frederick Schlieder, and Dr. Helen A. Dickinson.

In recent summers she attended the Salzburg Music festival, the Edinburgh Festival of Drama and Music, two Fred Waring workshops, and the Church Music institute at Northwestern university, and studied organ with Charlotte Lockwood Garden in New York City.

Miss Bellville's program will include works of Marcello, Bach, Franck, Vaughan Williams, and Farnam.

* * *

MUSIC FESTIVAL: Portions of the Spring Music festival of Madison high schools, to be held Sunday at 3 p. m. in the stock pavilion, will be recorded by WIBA and broadcast at 6 p. m. Sunday by WIBA and WIBA-FM.

The broadcast will include the anthem from Bloch's "America" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

* * *

ON TOUR: The University of Wisconsin Men's chorus will sing in eight Wisconsin schools this month. Conducting the group will be Prof. Paul Jones and Donn Weiss, assistant, of the university music school.

The itinerary:

May 19, Janesville high school, 1:10 p. m.; Beloit high school, 3 p. m.

May 27, Waupun high school, 10 a. m.; Horicon high school, 1 p. m.; St. John's Military academy, Delafield, 8:30 p. m.

May 28, Riverside high school, 8:30 a. m. and Rufus King high school, 10:30 a. m., both in Milwaukee, and Port Washington high school, 2 p. m.

* * *

CHILDREN'S THEATER: Details of "A Summer of Children's Theater" at the University of Wisconsin were announced Thursday by the university summer session, the Wisconsin Idea Theater, and the university speech department.

The season will be in three parts—instruction for credit, June 30-Aug. 22; three-day specialized workshop, Aug. 25-27, and the convention of the Children's Theater Conference of America, Aug. 28-30.

Dorothy Kester of the Akron, O., public school will be in charge of specialized instruction in children's theater work at the summer session. Courses in theater production playwriting, radio and television, stagecraft, audio-visual instruction, and related work will be offered.

The workshop will have sessions on "Music and Dance in Children's Theater," "Creative Dramatics," "Technical Problems and Scenic Design," and "Directing for Children's Theater Plays."

At the close of the workshop, Wisconsin Players will give a children's play in the Wisconsin Union theater under Miss Kester's direction.

POWs Keep Talks Going, Newsman Says

COLUMBIA, Mo. —(UP)— The United Nations (UN) probably would have broken off the Korean truce talks long ago if there were any way to recover UN prisoners, United Press Correspondent Arnold Dibble said Thursday.

Dibble, who covered the Korean armistice talks at Panmunjom for five months, spoke on the annual Journalism Week program of the University of Missouri school of journalism.

"The UN finds itself in a position similar to the Michigan and New Jersey wardens during the recent prison riots," the correspondent said. "The Communists are holding thousands of Allied prisoners as hostages and the UN's only recourse is patience and determination to wear down the Communists by negotiation."

Dibble is night bureau manager for the United Press in New York.

Chicago Natural History Museum Gets the Bird

CHICAGO—(UP)— The Chicago Natural History Museum got the bird Thursday.

Officials found a rare, stuffed New Zealand huia, extinct for about 40 years, in a remote corner of the museum's taxidermy shop.

Bird Curator Austin L. Rand said the museum always had wanted a huia but could not explain how it had lain hidden since the 1890s.
