SPOTLIGHT
3 Music Events

TIP OF THE MORNING: An intensified advertising war among breweries on radio and television is shaping up. One will spend $4,000,000 on these media in the next 12 months — just for boxing. Another is staying with dramatic shows, and others are lining up sports events.

EXCEPT for band concerts in Vilas park, Madison's summer music season will come to an end this week. Three events are on the schedule.

At 8 tonight, Stanford Hulshizer will conduct the University of Wisconsin Summer Session chorus in a free concert at Music hall, Marjorie Loberg, soloist with the University Summer Symphony on Aug. 10, will be piano accompanist.

Hulshizer conducted the All-State High School chorus this summer, too.

The University Summer Session band, with Prof. Raymond F. Dvorak conducting, will end its season with a program at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday on the Memorial Union terrace. This, too, will be free.

A group of summer session students will give an informal recital at 1:20 p. m. Wednesday in Music hall. There will be vocal, violin, and piano music.

Vilas park concerts by the Madison Musicians' Assn. band are scheduled for Aug. 24 and 31.

HULSHIZER

BELFRY PLAYERS: Vera Robinson, long a favorite with Belfry Players audiences, and John Hawkins, a scholarship actor, have the leading roles in "Remains to Be Seen," current attraction at the Belfry theater, Williams Bay. It will close Saturday night.

Also in the cast are two University of Wisconsin students, Phyllis Johnson and Laura Warren. The season will end with a 10-night run of "Stepping Sisters," to be presented at 8:20 p. m. daily from Aug. 23 through Sept. 6.

WORKSHOP: Harold Engel of WHA is among the speakers at the first nationwide workshop on educational television being held at WOI-TV, Ames, Ia. The workshop, attended by men and women from 23 states and Puerto Rico, is sponsored by Iowa State College, which operates WOI-TV, the National Assn. of Educational Broadcasters, and the Joint Committee on Educational Television.

NAMES IN THE NEWS: First guest singer on "Your Hit Parade" when it returns to NBC Friday, Aug. 29, will be Fran Warren.

Hattie McDaniel again will star in "Beulah" when the Monday-through-Friday show starts its sixth season on CBS Monday.

Jack Benny has been signed as headliner at the California State fair at the highest salary ever paid a performer in its history.

Virginia Gibson, who has just finished work on "Stop, You're Killing Me," goes into a singing and dancing role in "Back to Broadway," being filmed by Warner.

Roger Don, last seen on Broadway in "The Happy Time," has been cast as Anne Baxter's husband in "I Confess." Alfred Hitchcock thriller starring Montgomery Clift, Karl Malden, and Miss Baxter.

GIBSON: Frank Lloyd Wright pulled 2,000 letters to the "Tex and Jinx" show with one guest appearance.

Barbara Benson, Sammy Kaye vocalist, postponed her wedding until late August so she could sing with the band at the Atlantic City Steel Pier starting Friday.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley will make his first screen appearance in "Never Wave at a WAC." He'll portray himself in a Pentagon scene with Rosalind Russell.

Joseph Cotton again will be the star when "The Private Files of Matthew Bell" returns to Mutual Sept. 7.

Patricia Hitchcock, daughter of Director Alfred Hitchcock, will have a role on "Whispering Streets" over ABC-WISC at 9:25 a. m. Thursday.

Bob Crosby, Gisele MacKenzie, and the Modernaires will start "Club 15's" sixth season on CBS Monday.

Luella Parsons will return to her CBS program (heard on WKOW at 8:30 p. m. Tuesdays) on Aug. 26. Guest reporters Arlene Dahl and Betty Hutton have been conducting the show during Miss Parsons' vacation.

Efrem Zimbalist will step out of retirement this season to play Gian-Carlo Menotti's violin concerto — if it's finished in time. The performance has been scheduled by the Philadelphia orchestra under Eugene Ormandy.

FORUM: The Wisconsin Political Education forum, broadcast each statewide election year on WHA and the state network, will begin Monday and end Friday, 5 p. m.
