ANSWERS TO QUERIES: Mary Margaret McBride's program will return to WGN at 2 p. m. Monday on a Monday-through-Friday basis.

"Miss America—1948" was Bebe Shopp of Hopkins, Minn.

No word has come through on the status of "The Halls of Ivy."

About Sophie Tucker—I haven't yet seen any announcements of a Chicago engagement this season.

TODAY'S QUOTE: Mrs. Edna Lundin-Adrian's hands are paralyzed, but at the age of 46 she is starting a new career; she is studying law. On "Welcome Travelers," the Chicago woman told Tommy Bartlett: "When you're driving along and come to the end of a road, you don't wait for a construction crew to build a new one—you find a detour."

AUDITIONS: Because of illness, Director Bernhard Westland was unable to conduct scheduled auditions for the Philharmonic chorus Tuesday night. As a result, new tryout periods have been scheduled—7 to 9 p. m., Friday and 7 to 8 p. m., Tuesday, both at the City YMCA.

SEMINAR: Oscar Hoh, formerly director of the West high school band and orchestra, is one of 12 conductors chosen to attend a five-day seminar on conducting in Philadelphia beginning Sept. 30. Hoh is now conductor of the Clintonville Civic orchestra, and his city is the smallest one to be represented at the seminar. The period was organized by the American Symphony Orchestra league, which submitted a representative list of directors to Eugene Ormandy, conductor of the Philadelphia orchestra. He selected Hoh and the other 11.
