TIP O' THE MORNING: Information about road conditions throughout Wisconsin will be broadcast from the highway commission offices over WHA and the state FM network daily except Sundays at 8:27 a. m., starting Nov. 24.

MILDRED WIRKA's assignment to a leading role in "First Lady" recalled an earlier appearance in a completely different part. The picture herewith shows her in the costume for the title role of "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl."

MILDRED WIRKA

Mrs. Wirka played the sweet, clinging vine in a hilarious production of "Bertha" for the Empty Stocking club in December of 1933. Atties were ransacked for costumes and properties, and Mrs. Wirka was attired in a gown which featured leg o' mutton sleeves.

"First Lady" will be presented by the Madison Theater Guild Friday night at East high school and Saturday night at West high. Curtain time is 8:15.

SQUARE DANCERS: Scores of Wisconsin square dancers are expected to go to Chicago Saturday for the third annual International Square Dance festival to be held from 9 a. m. to midnight in the International Amphitheater.

Mel Schoeckert, Wauwatosa, directed rehearsals for the Wisconsin group, which will feature a six-pointed star sign. Schoeckert, a widely known caller, is Wisconsin chairman for the festival.

DISCS OF THE DAY: Recommended "pops" records . . .

Josef Marais and Miranda, with Mitch Miller's orchestra: "The Zulu Warrior," a rousing ditty done excitingly, and "Johnny Goggable," with clever lyrics. (Columbia).

 Harry James orchestra: "Love-light," sweet for dancing, and "Fruit Cake," with vocal by Toni Harper which is better than the tune deserves. (Columbia).

 Edith Piaf: "Encores Parisiennes," a 10-inch LP which includes "Padam, Padam" and "Jezebel," plus some beautiful songs of young love. (Columbia).

'MR. ROBERTS': Boxoffice sale for tickets to "Mr. Roberts" will begin today at the Parkway theater. The play, starring Tod Andrews, will be here Nov. 21 and 22, with performances at 8:30 p. m. Friday and at 2:30 and 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

TODAY'S LAUGH: Tom Moore, mirth-maker for Mutual's "Ladies Fair," puts his studio audiences in fettle for each show via pre-broadcast "warmup" gag sessions. One of his favorites concerns the man who was hailed into court for beating his wife with an oak leaf.

The incredulous judge told the cop, "How can you bring in a man for beating his wife with an oak leaf?"

The arresting officer, with a pained look, explained: "But, your honor, this particular oak leaf came from a dining room table."

'WAY BACK HOME': A request from Pfc. Patrick J. McDonald, Dprington, stationed in Meisen, Germany, has resulted in another Armed Forces program from WIBA on the "Way Back Home" series. This series features taped broadcasts to servicemen of programs made in their home towns. McDonald wrote Armed Forces Radio in September, asking for a broadcast by the Burkhalter Accordion band, with vocals by his brother, Ray McDonald. WIBA made the recording, and Patrick McDonald's request will be granted. In Meisen, he will hear his brother sing, just as he did "way back home."
