Here's Final Radio Poll Ballot

BY WILLIAM L. DOUDNA (State Journal Radio Editor)

Today we give the final ballot in The Wisconsin State Journal's annual radio poll.

It will not be printed again—this is your only chance to vote in the final poll.

The selections listed here were made strictly on the basis of preferences you expressed in the "primary" voting which ended Wednesday noon.

As a rule, you will find five names under each classification. You are to vote for only ONE in each classification.

In one or two cases, six names appear. This is because of ties in the original balloting. In a few cases, fewer than five names appear because only a few persons or programs received sufficient votes to be listed. In such instances, we have provided a blank line on which you may write your favorite performer or show, if it is not listed.

At the end of the ballot are two questions, with spaces for answers. You may or may not answer them, as you prefer.

"Your Pastor Speaks" does not appear on the ballot. This is because program receiving enough votes to warrant counting. Hence, it will be on the final honor roll by default. Mail your ballot at once to this address:

"Radio Editor, The State Journal, Madison 1, Wis."

It must reach us by noon Wednesday to be counted. Results will be announced Sunday, Dec. 28.
