

TIP O' THE MORNING: The Wisconsin Education Assn. is offering a $300 prize for a song by a Wisconsin composer to celebrate the association's centennial.

MODERN CANTATA OF the Lenten season, Leo Sower-A MODERN CANTATA OF the Lenter Season. 200 by's "Forsaken of Man," was performed with sensitivity and respect for both the subject and the music by the University of Wisconsin chorus here Sunday.

J. Russell Paxton conducted the work, an almost literal local nelation of the events of Holy Week into terms of music. 10:30 local part of the Engageties sung. 10:45 translation of the events of Holy Week into terms of music. The burden of the telling rests with the Evangelist, sung within reach of perfection by Allan Keller, Chicago.

Keller's clean diction, coupled with a voice of great beauty and carrying power, made him an ideal choice. Charles Greene, Chicago baritone, sang the words of Jesus. He, too, possessed clear diction; his voice was moving and often rich, but appeared to tire more easily Several students and faculty members essayed brief solos. Of these, Donn Weiss, baritone who is the chorus' assistant director, was outstanding, singing the role of Peter with a feeling of the grief behind the disciple's denials of the Savior. Sadly, the chorus in "Forsaken of Man" is secondary to the leading soloists, but under Paxton's leadership it contributed mightily to the sum of the music. Jubilant measures in the first part and the portion which includes the demand "Crucify Him!" were particularly Mrs. Paxton's organ accompaniment, assisted by subordinate music for piano (played by Phyllis Johnson), was one of the concert's enjoyable parts, although the instrument itself lacked body. Sowerby's music was fitting and listenable, but without any melodies to carry home. Mostly in modern idiom, it had areas of conventional-nearly hymn-like-writing.

SLIP-OF-TONGUE DEPT .: Mrs. Rufus Wells reports that an announcer on the televising of Friday night's boxing matches noted that in the audience were "many women with gownless evening straps."

PIANO: Gunnar Johansen, professor of music at the University of Wisconsin, will give a recital at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Music hall. His most recent appearance was as soloist with the Minneapolis Sym-

Community Center phony orchestra.

Johansen is playing fewer concerts than usual this season because he has been busy at his home both at 7:30 p. m. Handicaped young Adults, Bridge Instructions works of Bach.

The program will consist of "Choral Prelude: Chaconne, "Nun Kommt der Heiden Heiland," Bach-Busoni; "Seven Songs Without Words," Mendelssohn; "Scherzo in B Minor" and "Impromptu in F Sharp Major," Chopin; "Toccata in the Phrygian Mode." Johansen. and "St. Francis Walking on the Waves," Liszt.

you can KEEP Blue Cross and Blue Shield

Most group insurance policies end when you change jobs—or become much less valuable. When you are a Blue Cross-Blue Shield member, you can keep the full protection as long as you like, no matter what job you take, or how old you are. There's no need to worry about a loss of protection ... every benefit of your group contract is retained as long as you are a member.

BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD MEANS BETTER PROTECTION

Blue Cross and Blue Shield are operated by the hospitals and the doctors without profit to give you the greatest possible range of benefits at the lowest cost. Blue Cross offers service benefits-not just so many dollars but actual hospital services as you need them: Blue Shield provides liberal benefits for hundreds of surgical and medical procedures, , and a "full payment" provision for a wide range of doctor's services in the home, hospital or doctor's office for all families with income up to $4,800.
