

TIP O' THE MORNING: The concert which the Philharmonic chorus of Madison gave last week was recorded and will be broadcast at 9 p.m. Sunday over WHA-FM.

VIRTUOSO SOLO performances and generally excellent playing of a varied program brought Madison's civic music season to an end Wednesday night.

season to an end Wednesday night.

The concert by the Madison Civic Symphony orchestra also was the last such program in the Masonic auditorium, will not be available next season.

William Druckenmiller, flutist, and Marie Endres, violinist, were standouts among the soloists, Walter Heermann conducted.

Druckenmiller was practically superb in Griffes' "Poem for Flute and Orchestra," an amazing piece in itself and a demanding one for the soloist, who performed the sombre opening and the gay dance with equal fluency. His sustained notes were round and women a usually expert performance in the blues section was of dexterity.

Using only the usual strings with harp, French horns, and a bit of percussion to back the soloist, with the fighting coming from the gallic atmosphere of the opening so small a group. Mrs. D. M. Pickart played a lovely viola solo passage.
