tale lead, for "Billy Budd;"

DESPITE THREATENING weather, Hagen Brothers circus had to give an extra performance Sunday afternoon at the Dane county fairgrounds to take care of the hundreds of chitdren and adults who arrived to see the first outdoor show of Headlined by the Reynoso due of Mexico, the performance was circusy and smooth-running. A comparatively small troupe, the Hagen organization put a lot of entertainment before its audiences, and had fewer vaudeville-type acts and more tanbark turns than most shows of its size.

U.S. Has New Plan

for Returning POWs

WASHINGTON (P—Defense De-partment sources disclosed a new plan Sunday for bringing future American prisoners of war back home without segregating those suspected of having "succumbed" to Communism.

The plan—still subject to top-level approval but almost certain of acceptance—would avoid the pitfalls of the first prisoner exchange last month. At that time change last month. At that time the military encountered a storm of public protest for segregating and pinning a "Red label" on released Americans.

Defense Department spokesmen said that in the future all prisoners of war will be treated and returned alike.

The new plan is based on experience gained from the return of the group of 149 released Americans. It also reflects the general feeting now that the much-discussed Communist "brainwashing" technique has been overestimated—at least in the extent it was used on American POW's, the spokesman said.
