A PROCEDURE described as "the biggest and fastest film processing and distributing operation ever accomplished" is speeding hundreds of Technicolor priuts of the only full-length picture of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II to the United States for showings in key cities throughout the country next week.

Prints of "A Queen Is Crowned" left London airport within a few hours after the ceremonies in Westminster Abbey on a minute-by-minute dispatching schedule utilizing facilities of British Overseas Airways (BOA), including its jet airliner Comet.

Universal Pictures Co., distributor, says this about the filmed record of the historic pageantry:

"Unlike the episodic black-and-white newsreel clips, a fully-edited and scored feature film in color would normally require many weeks of processing, editing, scoring and advance preparation, however, the accomplete narration by Cities and advance, and in some cases there was a time factor of only 20 minutes between the seating of a film container and in some cases there was a time factor of only 20 minutes between the seating of a film container and in some cases there was a time factor of only 20 minutes between the seating of a film container and in some cases there was a time factor of only 20 minutes between the seating of a film container and alignment takeoff time at the near-by London airport. Early copies of the film were destined for New York, Japan, Sydney, Aukland, to be followed by flights to less distant points such as Stockholm, Athens, Paris, etc.

Grocery Supply Firm

Injured by Lightning

EAGLE RIVER (AP)—A bolt of lightning struck a sleeping Eagle River woman Thursday, driving splinters from a shattered bed into her head, but left her husband uninjured beside her.

Mrs. Douald McDonald, 35, was reported in fair condition with the head injuries and burns after the strike.

The bolt, loosed during a violent clectrical storm, apparently traveled on the house wiring to the bedlight, then blasted a two-inch hole in the headboard of the bed, struck Mrs. McDonald, and set the mattress afire.

Her husband, who put out the fire and called help, said he was awakened by a loud noise but was not hurt.

When plenicking, be sure the food is cared for properly. Certain picine foods, such as salads and custard filled desserts, especially in hot weather, are common sources of food poisoning unless they are kept refrigerated.

With the observance of these precations, plus good common sense, your long-awaited vacation should be a happy and healthful one.

VERDICT: Overlooking the totally inaccurate historical account, the picture provides plenty of action and color of frontier life.

CO-FEATURE: The System, starring Frank Lovejoy and Joan Weldon, is a crime melodrama of a Senate investigation of big-time gambling. Although the main character, a rich, powerful gambling head played by Lovejoy, becomes too sympathetic to the audience to deserve his final punishment, the picture is fast-moving
