Bill Doudna's SPOTLIGHT Joet Robinson

TIP O' THE MORNING: Station WGN will air at least two Wisconsin football games—Purdue and Illinois—with Jack Brickhouse doing the play-by-play.

CHARMING JOET ROBINSON, who dances in "The Band Wagon" (which opens today at the Orpheum theater), is racking up some new experiences during her current tour of the Midwest.

She spent Tuesday in Madison, and was scheduled to leave Tuesday night for Duluth and the Twin Cities.

With one exception, this is her first trip outside California. (The exception was her journey to California from Columbus, O., when she was 5 years old—and she can't remember it.)

For the first time in her life, she boarded an airplane when the present tour began.

Until she went behind the counters of Madison stores to sell shirts, perfumes, and records, she had never sold a single item.

And her appearance on WMTV later in the day was her first experience in television.

Joet represents the third generation of her family in show business, each in a different field. Her maternal grandmother, now over 80, and living in California, was an aerialist with the Barnum and Bailey circus. Her mother, the former Louise Lorenz, was in musical comedy—the "Ziegfeld Follies" and "George White's Scandals."

Her father, the former Louis Lorenz, was in musical comedy—the "Ziegfeld Follies" and "George White's Scandals."

NAMES IN THE NEWS: A Decca recording contract has been signed by Judy Canova. She'll wax six sides in the next few weeks for autumn release.

Billary Brooke, a Swedish girl from Brooklyn who usually plays an English girl in American movies, is in England, where she's playing an American girl in a British picture.

Herman Miller, Wilton, and his daughter, Shirley, have signed a 17-week contract with the Thomas Buchanan All-Star circus. Miller will have his horse and bear acts on the show and his daughter will perform in aerial bar and acrobatic acts.

TODAY'S LAUGH: Red Skelton was telling Jean Hagen, his leading woman in his new picture, "Half A Hero," about a stunt man who worked with him once. Scemed the "stunter" was late to the studio one morning and the director was fuming. A year later the man appeared, his clothes ripped, and his face covered with blood. "Where have you been?" roared the director. "I couldn't help it. I fell out of a sixth story window," the stunt man groaned. "That took an hour?" the director replied.

TWINKLERS: MGM is assembling its greatest all-star cast since days of "Dinner at Eight," and "Grand Hotel" for "Executive Suite." The stars include Fredric March, Paul Douglas, Dean Jagger, William Holden, Walter Pidgeon, Louis Calhern, June Allyson, Barbara Stanwyck, Shelley Winters, and Nina Foch.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE
 By Oswald Jacoby

The point of today's hand would be comparatively unimportant at rubber bridge. North would probably play the hand at a contract of four hearts, losing a spade, a heart and a club.

In a tournament, however, it is important to score the maximum on every hand. Hence you sometimes play a hand in no-trump even when you have a line major suit just because the score for a no-trump contract counts 10 points more than for the same number of tricks at a major suit.

Today's hand is a case in point. South even opened the bidding with one no-trump despite the rather shabby heart holding in order to have the best possible chance to get into a no-trump contract eventually.

West opened the four of spades, and dummy won the first trick with the jack. Declarer led a low club from dummy. East played low, and South won in his own hand with the queen.

South now made a key play by leading the queen of hearts from his own hand. West followed with the singleton jack, and dummy played low.

East couldn't afford to win this trick since it was obvious that South still had a heart and would therefore be able to run the rest of dummy's long suit later on. After some thought, therefore, East refused the trick.

It was clear that East held the ace of clubs and that he would hold it to kill dummy's king of clubs. Since there was no side entry to the hearts, declarer decided to abandon the hearts and return to the clubs.

South led a low club. West followed with the ten, and dummy's king drove out the ace. East returned a spade, and now declarer cashed the ace of spades, the top diamonds, and his two remaining clubs.

By this time South had taken in nine tricks and he could afford to cash dummy's ace of hearts as a 10th trick. This alone would outscore those pairs who played the hand at four hearts instead of four no-trump.

An extra dividend developed, however. By the time South had run all of his tricks, East had only hearts left in his hand. After dummy took the ace of hearts, the ten of hearts forced out East's king, and East was obliged to return a heart to dummy. Declarer therefore made 11 tricks at no-trump, for a very fine score.

Truax Building to Be Delayed

(State Journal Washington Bureau)

WASHINGTON — Construction totaling $331,000 at Truax Field will not begin until after the House Appropriations Committee "clears" the project during hearings in October or November, Rep. Glenn R. Davis (R-Waukesha), chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee on military construction, disclosed Tuesday.

The project, which calls for operational and administrative facilities, storage, and land acquisition, has been authorized and money is available for it in unexpended Air Force funds which were held over from last year.

But before the Air Force can draw on these unexpended funds, it must be given the green light by the appropriations committees of both the House and Senate.
