JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby

When a bridge player goes to heaven (if that is possible) he will discover that all of the suits break favorably and that all of the fitnesses work. While he lives in this vale of tears, however, he must put up with bad breaks and losing fitnesses.

When South played today's hand he must have thought he was already in heaven. When he had finished misplaying the hand, however, his partner gave him a little taste of the other place.

West opened the queen of spades, and South won with the king. Declarer assumed confidently that the clubs were going to break 3-2 and therefore counted 10 fast tricks. Hoping to gain an 11th trick, declarer led a low club to dummy's king and tried a heart finesse.

The heart finesse lost to West's queen, and back came another spade to South's ace. Now the clubs failed to break 3-2 and South suddenly discovered that he had only eight tricks after all.

The correct line of play is to take the ace of clubs at the second trick. If either opponent shows out immediately, it becomes clear that the clubs cannot be brought in, in which case the ninth trick must be sought in hearts.

if both opponents follow to the first round of clubs (as they would in this case) South leads a low club and lets the opponents win the trick. This provides

Sheboygan Woman Couldn't Believe Husband Released

SHEBOYGAN (U.P.)—"I couldn't believe it... I still almost can't believe it," Mrs. Anton Brom Jr. said Saturday night when she learned that her husband, Capt. Anton Brom Jr., had been released from a Korean prisoner of war camp.

Brom, an Air Force radar operator, was in a B-29 which was shot down in a night raid June 10, 1952. Military officials in Washington were pessimistic about his fate, Mrs. Brom said, and all her letters came back from POW camps with notices that her husband was not a prisoner.

"A friend called me and asked if I heard the news about Tony," she said. "I asked what news and she said he was freed."

"I thought she was kidding me... but then lots of my friends started calling and finally, I guess, I believe it now and it's wonderful."

Brom, 32, was recalled to active duty with the Air Force in July, 1951, and sent to a bomber base on Okinawa in March, 1952, for "six months temporary duty," his wife said. About three months later he was shot down. The Broms have a 4-year-old daughter.
