Dentists' Bill for Late Appointments Rejected

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A dentist's attempt to extract $20 extra from a patient for broken appointments failed in civil court Thursday.

Civil Judge Myron L. Gordon disallowed the claim of Dr. Jack Williams against Richard Boho for an extra charge of $20 at the rate of $4 per hour for the time Boho allegedly was late.

Boho claimed he had a contract calling for full payment of $180 for installation of a partial plate. The judge ruled this was a written contract which could not be properly modified by notations on disallowed the claim of Dr. Jack Williams against Richard Boho for an extra charge of $20 at the rate of $4 per hour for the time Boho allegedly was late.

Bill Doudna's SPOTLIGHT

Frederic Hilary

TIP O' THE MORNING: The World Series will be broadcast by WISC, WISC-FM, and WGN, and will be televised by WTMJ-TV, WNBQ, and WGN-TV.

FREDERIC HILARY, director of the Trinity Lutheran, an senior and high school choirs and of the Zor Shrine Chanters, has been appointed director of the Grieg Male chorus, now starting its 29th year.

The new conductor of the Scandinavian chorale group also teaches in the University of Wisconsin school of music, where he is studying for his doctorate.

Hilary was director of instrumental music at Gustavus Adolphus college, St. Peter, Minn. He also conducted choral groups there.

Incidentally, he made his first Madison appearance as violin soloist with the Gustavus Adolphus choir; he then was a student at that school.

Hilary studied violin with Leopold Auer and conducting with Pierre Monteux. He is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music, New York City, and the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y. He and his wife, who is organist at Trinity church, are studying ensemble work with Rudolf Kolsch, first violinist of the Pro Arte quartet.

Margaret Otterson was reappointed accompanist for the Grieg chorus.

The organization rehearses at 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays in its club house at 1324 Williamson st. Men interested in singing with the chorus have been invited to attend the next rehearsal.

RECORD HOUR: Schubert's seventh symphony and Beethoven's "Spring" sonata will be played at the first of a series of weekly Concert Record Hours at 7 p.m. Sunday in the Rosewood room of the Memorial Union.

"You may bring your books and study, or just relax and listen to the music," said a member of the sponsoring Wisconsin Union music committee. "All are invited to attend."

School Essay Contest to Aid Handicapped

The sixth annual high school essay contest on employment of the physically handicapped will begin Oct. 15 and will have a total of $2,525 in national and state prizes.

Sponsored by the Governor's Committee on the Employment of the Physically Handicapped, the contest is open to all high school juniors and seniors. It will close Feb. 15, 1954.

Essays should be on the subject: "The Physically Handicapped—Competent, Dependable Workers."

The top first prize is $1,000 while there will be 10 state prizes of savings bonds ranging from $150 to $25.

State judges of entries submitted in Wisconsin will be Scott M. Cullip, professor of journalism, University of Wisconsin; Sister Mary Nona, (OP) president of Edgewood college, Madison, and John R. Wraga, personnel manager, Gisholt Machine Co.

A. L. Beier, secretary of the Governor's Committee on the Employment of the Handicapped, and director of the contest, said essays must be between 1,000 and 1,200 words, typed double space on regulation typing paper.

Further information is available at public libraries, most schools or the district offices of the State Rehabilitation Division, Veterans Administration, or Wisconsin State Employment Service.

Entries must be sent to A. L. Beier, 105 S. Blair st., Madison, 3, Wis.

Visiting Nurse Service Aids 8,000 City Residents Yearly

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another in a series of articles on member agencies of Madison's United Givers' Fund.)
More than 8,000 Madison area residents, ranging from new babies to aged invalids, each year up the call list of the Visiting Nurse Service, a Red Feather agency.

The young mother who wants demonstrations on baby care, the accident victim who must learn to walk again, the surgery patient who requires regular changing of his dressings—in fact, anyone who needs some nursing help in the home qualifies for this nursing service.

The agency charges a fee for those able to pay, but no one is denied help because of financial inability.

Continuous all-day care is not provided; Ann L. Schmich, director, emphasizes, since it would quickly tie up the staff of 10 registered nurses. In order to make their more than 25,000 visits yearly, the nurses must average upwards of 10 calls a day. Some calls may take only minutes, others up to an hour and a half.

The chronically ill account for the largest number of visits, Miss Schmich indicates.

"We now have fewer acutely ill patients but many more long-term patients who require extended care. Many are completely paralyzed, as in advanced multiple sclerosis, or partially paralyzed by strokes."

High on the list of visits are expectant mothers and new babies. While the service is at post-natal visits, techniques of baby care with demonstrations of bathing the child, formula preparations, etc.

After several visits, the girl understood baby care quite well, but the nurse has continued calling to observe and help. She has also referred the girl to the proper agencies for counseling and financial aid.

Supervision and custodial care of the aged is a valuable service provided by the Visiting Nurses. When an elderly person lives alone, children out of the city often request that the agency make periodic check-ups and report their findings. Sometimes the aged person refuses to allow the family to give necessary care but will cooperate with the visiting nurse.

Nursing service to rheumatic fever patients began in 1949 in cooperation with the Kiddie Camp Association and the Bureau of Handicapped Children. Polio victims receive nursing through cooperation with the Dane County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

An important part of the Visiting Nurse Service is the agency's loan closet. It includes crutches, bed pans, occupational therapy materials, etc., all available for loan. Greatest demand seems to be for wheel chairs and baby scales.

The agency plays an important role in educating for better health through its stress on disease and accident prevention. It is also active in the field of nursing education, cooperating with the schools of nursing at the University, St. Mary's, and Madison General hospitals.

As with any nursing organization today, Visiting Nurse Service finds the turnover of staff members the greatest problem. At present, there is great need for a physical therapist for the long-term patients.

Although financed partly by fees from those persons able to pay, the agency's greatest support comes from contributions of Madison area citizens through the United Giver's Fund.

The Visiting Nurse Service allotment from the fund this year is $39,000.

Homemakers Chorus Elects at Monroe

MONROE—The Green County Homemakers chorus, composed of women from all parts of the county, elected officers for the new season this week and chose Mrs. Clarence E. Day, Monroe as president.

Mrs. Day succeeds Mrs. N. C. Duret, Monroe. Other officers are Mrs. Leland Jordan, Juda, reelection secretary; Mrs. William Schermer, Schmich, A. teen-age mother, chairman; Mrs. Arthur Swann, Brookfield, regional chairman.

The Homemakers chorus is called upon each year to sing at many public functions.
