WHA and WHA-FM TV to Show Battle Against Heart Disease
 970 N. 88th St. CHICAGO (P) — The American Medical Association announced Sunday night that the latest techniques in battling heart disease—the nation's No. 1 health problem—will be presented on a coast-to-coast television program from Boston Thursday night.
 The half-hour program will be carried by 68 NBC stations from 9 p. m. CST to 9:30 p. m. The AMA announced two other programs in later months as part of a fall series entitled "March of Medicine" sponsored by the Smith, Kline and French Laboratories.
 Last year the pharmaceutical house and the AMA teamed up to present the birth of a baby on a nationwide telecast.
 The AMA said the Thursday program will demonstrate some of the newest testing machines used in search and treatment of heart disease.
