SPOTLIGHT Christmas Concert

TIP O' THE MORNING: The world premiere of "The Glenn Miller Story" at the Playhouse theater in Hollywood will be broadcast by NBC Radio Thursday night.

THE HIGH STATE to which choral singing at the University of Wisconsin has risen in the past few years was amply shown Sunday at Luther Memorial church. The University A Cappella choir and its Men's and Women's choruses collaborated there in a program of Christmas music, presented for two audiences.

There was no applause, but comments overheard afterward gave proof of the listeners' approval.

One of the best pieces of such singing that has been heard on the campus was the Sweetlink motet, "Born Today," done by the A Cappella choir. Five sets of voices intertwined in the persuasive music, beautiful and jubilant.

Helen Starr, soprano from Richland Center, once more showed her fine voice in "The Coventry Carol," in which the Coventry Chorale, combined their three choruses. Charles Hield, baritone from Independence, Mo., did nothing but the ritualistic solo in "God With Us," and Patricia Lufburrow, soprano from Kenilworth, Ill., displayed lovely tone in "The Holy Boy."

The program moved smoothly from chorus to chorus. The a cappella choir was in the rear of the church, the men's and women's choruses in lofts at each side of the front portion. When they sang together, the unity was perfect.
