Laborer, 57, Jailed for Beating Wife

Frank Flood, 57-year-old Monona laborer who said he tightened a hangman's noose around his wife's neck last month "just to frighten her," was sentenced in Superior Court Friday to 30 days in jail on assault and battery charges.

Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor ordered the sentence to begin as of Nov. 19, the day he was arrested for beating and threatening his wife. He underwent a court-ordered mental examination at Mendota state hospital and doctors reported to the court Friday that he is sane.

His wife, Clara, 57, is undergoing treatment. Flood told Judge Proctor Friday he intends to start a divorce action as soon as he is released from jail.

"I've put up with just enough," he declared.

"So has your wife, it seems to me," Judge Proctor said.

FIRST PRODUCTION of the newly-organized Phi Beta-Truax Theater club will be J. B. Priestly's "Dangerous Corner." It will be given at 8 p. m. Sunday, Jan. 10, at the field.

Mrs. Stuart Reid, national ritual director of the fraternity, will direct the play. The cast will include Gloria Levey, Kristin Rozan, Catherine Einum, and Nancy Oakes, speech students at the university, and Lt. Richard A. Golden, Airman First Class Joseph A. Baker, and Airman Third Class Donald C. McLeod, of Truax Field.

SHE HEARD OF ARE: Helen del Solar, secretary to Charles Russell and Sidney Lumet, producer and director respectively of CBS Television's "You Are There," is a 22-year-old lass from Peru who's anxious to become an American citizen. That, plus the fact "You Are There" does exhaustive historical research for each of its weekly broadcasts, gave Miss del Solar a moment of triumph recently.

Miss del Solar appeared before an immigration bureau official as a preliminary to getting her citizenship papers. "You Are There" had recreated "The Capture of John Wilkes Booth" several months previously, and just two days before her appearance at the bureau, had presented "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address." Unaware of this, the official innocently asked, "Did you ever hear of Abraham Lincoln?"

Helen's answer came out a bit more explosively than those of other applicants. "Did I ever hear of Abraham Lincoln? Ask me anything about him. ANYTHING!"
