State House Delegation Hails Seaway Vote
 (State Journal Washington Bureau)

WASHINGTON — Members of the Wisconsin House delegation have hailed the decisive vote of the House Public Works committee in approving authorization of the St. Lawrence Seaway project as "a great victory for the Eisenhower administration," and predicted a Seaway victory in the House.

Rep. Glenn R. Davis (R-Waukesha), who was "highly pleased with the 23 to 6 vote of the committee in favor of the seaway," is in a strategic position to aid the project.

Davis is chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee on functions, and the Seaway project will come before his group for actual funds.

"I wouldn't be surprised if we took up the seaway this year," Davis said. "Funds of about $105 million were requested for the project in the President's budget. If the seaway is authorized early in the session, then we'll be able to work on it."

Both Reps. Melvin R. Laird, Marshfield, and John W. Byrnes, Green Bay, saw a "bright outlook" for the project. They pointed out that the Seaway has been "pending" for more than 20 years, but "it took the Eisenhower administration to do something about it."

The Seaway bill will be considered in the House late in March, according to Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr., (R-Mass.)
