WANT-AD WONDERS Trade Mark
Want Ad Used By Noted Author To Secure Material
EVELYN WAUGH seeks detailed information p.o.w. routine from then junior officer taken prisoner unwounded France, 1940; hospitality, expenses and £50 offered to applicant willing to spend two days in near future under interrogation.
Soon after Evelyn Waugh had published "Men At Arms" — the first volume of a trilogy — last fall the noted British author unwittingly gave a hint of the subject matter of Volume II by placing a Classified Ad in the London Times seeking the sort of background information he needed.

1955 CAR LURE CRASHES 5 TOWNS INTO DARKNESS

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 29.—(AP) William Young got absorbed in a new 1955-model auto and plunged 25,000 homes in five towns into darkness.

Young was driving his own car last night when he spotted the shiny new model and kept on looking. His car hit the guy wire of a 13,800-volt electric power line.

Electric power was knocked out to 25,000 customers for miles around. A night football game had to be cancelled. Reports of many other inconveniences were received at newspapers and police stations.
