TURNING THE DIALS

BY FRED H. RUSSELL

Leo Durocher, the brassy-voiced manager of the world champion New York Giants, will be the subject of a loud and lively "Biography in Sound" tonight on NBC radio at 7 o'clock. This latest in NBC News' biographical series will open with "Leo, the Lip," himself yelling instructions and whistling from third base. Then, following the story-telling technique devised by Joseph Meyers, the producer, the program will turn to those who know the man best and let them create his image for the listeners. Laraine Day, his actress-wife, will give a few at-home glimpses of baseball's most colorful figure.

Anecdotes and reminiscences will flow from these greats in the world of sports: Jackie Robinson, Pee Wee Reese, Larry MacPhail, Branch Rickey, Al Dark, Willie Mays, Dizzy Dean and Paul Dean.

Their stories will be augmented by those of sportswriters John Kieran and J. Roy Stockton; by Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants; by former Dodgers manager Charlie Dresser, and by Paul Krichell, New York Yankee scout. Toots Shor, New York restaurenteur, will add a few pouches of spice to the collection of tales.

Easter Feature

Long absent from the New York music scene, Rosa Ponselle, the dramatic soprano, will be heard over WNYC Easter Sunday morning, in both song and an exclusive interview with Ruby Mercer on "Mr. and Mrs. Opera (10:30 to 11:55 o'clock). Highlighting the program will be the premiere of the former Metropolitan Opera's star new Victor album, "Rosa Ponselle Sings Today," the first recording she has made since 1939.

The rare program treat will feature Miss Ponselle singing such songs as "Amuri, Amuri."

"Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes" and other selections from the album, as well as older recordings of operatic arias from the new album, as well as older recordings of favorite operatic arias from "Norma" and other operas closely identified with the singer. Thus, comparison may be made between her voice today and as it was in earlier years.

FM Sets Popular

More than half of the homes in the New York metropolitan area have radios capable of receiving broadcasts from FM stations. A study recently released by The Pulse Inc., which is the result of a survey made in January, shows that there are 2,084,467 homes in and around New York which have FM sets, and of these approximately a million were tuned in the week of Jan. 3 to 10, during which the survey was made.

In commenting on The Pulse report, Elliott M. Sanger, executive vice president of WQXR, radio station of the New York Times, said: "These figures seem to indicate that FM broadcasting is not dead as some people would lead us to believe. The Pulse has made studies for us in January of every year since 1948 and we have seen a constant growth of interest in frequency modulation. In 1948 there were only 130,000 homes with FM sets and today there are more than 2,000,000. These are facts which prove that the great desire for high fidelity and good music in the New York area has made FM a vital factor in the broadcast picture."

Adds Sunday Program

Fulton Lewis, Jr., the news analyst, will inaugurate a new Sunday evening program over WOR radio form 9 to 9:15 p. m., beginning tonight.

Mr. Lewis, who travels extensively for exclusive behind-the-scenes material, returned a week ago from a tour of Spain and Western Germany. He obtained interviews with Gen. Francisco Franco of Spain and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany for use on his programs.

Golf Tournament

NBC radio will again provide golf enthusiasts with exclusive, on-the-spot reports of one of the game's classic competitions, the Masters Invitation Tournament, direct from the Augusta, Ga., National Golf Club, Thursday through Sunday.

The broadcast schedule is as follows: Thursday, 3:05 to 3:30 p.m.; Friday, 3:05 to 3:30 p.m.; Saturday, 1:30 to 2 p.m., 3 to 3:15 p.m., 4 to 4:35 p.m., 5:15 to 5:30 p.m.; and Sunday, 1 to 1:30 p.m., 3:30 to 4 p.m., and 5 to 6 p.m.

Split Performance

The "St. Matthew Passion," set to music by Bach, will be the featured musical offering of WQXR for today. The station will present this long musical masterpiece in a split performance: the first half in the afternoon, 3:05 to 5 o'clock, and the conclusion in the evening from 9:05 to 11 o'clock.

Bach's foundation of the Passion is based on 141 verses in the 26th and 27th chapters of the Gospel According to St. Matthew. His dramatic plan is a series of tableaux with the narrative done by soloists. At characteristic points the narrative is interrupted for pious meditation expressed in chorale verses. The soloists will be Magda Laszlo, Hildegard Roessel-Majdan, Petre Munteanu, Richard Standen, Hugues Cuenod, Heinz Rehfuss and the orchestra and chorus recorded under the direction of Hermann Scherchen.

Controversial Topic

The controversial question, "Are We Wasting Money on Overseas Information?" will be debated on "America's Town Meeting of the Air" over WNAB and WABC tonight at 8 o'clock.

Speakers will be Eugene W. Castle, author of "Billions, Blunders and Baloney," film executive, and Representative Harrison A. Williams, Jr., (D-NJ) member of the House Foreign Affairs committee.

Castle, pioneer producer and international distributor of films for home, libraries and institutions, is an avowed Republican. Rep. Williams is a lawyer from Plainfield, N. J.

Violin Soloist

The French violinist Zino Francescatti will be soloist with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra in a concert of French music to be conducted today by Dimitri Mitropoulos over CBS radio at 2:30 p. m.

Mr. Francescatti, marking his 15th season as soloist with the Philharmonic, will play Edouard Lalo's "Symphonie Espagnole" with the orchestra.

Maestro Mitropoulos will open the broadcast with Ladmirault's "Variations sur des Airs de Biniou," the "binion" being a form of bagpipe found in Brittany, the composer's native province.

The program's major work will be the "Symphony in G Minor, No. 3" by Albert Rousse.

So large has been the correspondence which has poured in as the result of the recent discussion between Henry Pleasants and Jay Harrison about Mr. Pleasants' book "The Agony of Modern Music," that James Fassett will devote his feature to an appraisal of the mail which he has received.

WATV to Carry Trotters Nightly

WATV Channel 13 will televise the harness races from Roosevelt Raceway on Long Island each evening commencing Monday. The complete program of eight races will be aired each night, Monday through Saturday, starting at 8:30 p. m.

Since each race takes a maximum of five minutes, with an interval of 20 minutes between events, the station will superimpose these events upon its normal program structure. Thus, thrice each hour, the regularly scheduled program will be interrupted for a remote pickup of the harness races at Roosevelt Raceway. After each race the program will resume at the point of interruption and continue to its normal conclusion.
