

TURNING THE DIALS

BY FRED H. RUSSELL

Highlighting the great issues of the past two decades, a special documentary titled "Town Meeting: A 20-Year Cavalcade" will be presented over WJAB and WABC radio next Sunday from 8 to 9 o'clock...

The documentary, which has been edited from recordings of the nearly 500 programs aired since May 1935, will range from the famous debate between Secretary DeLois and General Johnson on New Deal policies to the highly entertaining discussion between John D. Brown, the author, and Al Capp, the cartoonist, over the merits of comic strips.

Based for many years in Town Hall, New York City, "Town Meeting" recently has added a "grass roots" dimension, by originating nearly every Sunday night from a different city or town. During the past season the program set a record of 21 broadcasts away from its New York studio...
