TURNING THE DIALS

BY FRED H. RUSSELL

Walter Slezak, Lawrence Tibbett, Leonard Warren, Irving Kolodin and Philip Miller will take part in WQXR's review of "Fifty Years of Opera," which will be broadcast in five half-hour programs from next Wednesday through Friday, July 15. The Monday, Wednesday and Friday programs, at 7:30 p. m., will highlight the great operatic voices of five decades and reminiscences of specific periods by great authorities on opera. George Marek, artist and repertoire head of RCA Victor, will conduct the interviews on each of the five programs.

Irving Kolodin, music critic who selected the voices which are included in the record release "Fifty Years of Great Operatic Singing," will be the first guest on next Wednesday night. The voices on the initial program will be those of Bettelini, Melba, Caruso, Scotti, Sembrich and Calve. They represent the first decade of operatic voices—1890 to 1900.

Slezak, star of stage and screen, will reminisce about his father, Leo Slezak, during the broadcast on Friday, July 8. The well-remembered voices of the second decade, 1900 to 1920, will be those of John McCormack, Clement, Caruso, Destinn, Muzio and Slezak, Sr.

The third decade of operatic voices, covering the period 1920 to 1930, will be discussed by Mr. Miller, musicologist and assistant director of the Music division of the New York Public Library, on Monday, July 11. Among the voices to be heard will be Caruso, Garden, Ponselle, Martinelli, Pinza and Koshetz.

Mr. Tibbett, representing opera from the '20s to the '40s, will be interviewed by Mr. Marek on Wednesday, July 13. The voices, in addition to Tibbett, will be those of Pinza, Lemnitz, Melchior and Flagstad.

Present day opera singers, through Mr. Warren as spokesman, will be represented in the voices of Dorothy Maynor, Elmo, Gigli, Lucia Albanese, Merrill, Rise Stevens, Pearce and Warren. The final program, covering the 1940 to 1950 decade, will be broadcast on Friday, July 15, from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

Science and Religion

Catholic laymen distinguished in the fields of science, politics, industry and philosophy will consider the compatibility of modern-day science and religion in a series of five "Catholic Hour," broadcasts on NBC radio starting this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Representative Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.) will launch the series today with a talk on political science. John Quincy Adams, president of Manhattan Refrigerator company, New York city, and Union Terminal Cold Storage company of New Jersey, will talk about automation, the "second Industrial revolution," July 10. Dr. Karl Stern of the Department of Psychiatry, Ottawa General hospital, Ottawa, Ont., Canada, will consider psychiatry and religion July 17.

Senator John O. Pastore (D-R.I.), member of the Congressional Atomic Energy committee, will talk about nuclear physics July 24. Anton Pegis, author, educator and philosopher, will close the series July 31. He will stress the need of philosophy to synthesize the findings of the various sciences, as requested by Pope Pius XII in a recent address to the Pontifical Academy of Sciences.

Fiedler on Podium

Arthur Fiedler will conduct the Boston Pops orchestra for its final program of the season on WRCA radio tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock. The program will include Sousa's stirring "Stars and Stripes Forever," Offenbach's 'Orpheus in Hades" overture, the 'Cloudburst" section from Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite" and compulsive 'Bolero" from Ravel.

New York Story

The story of New York City will be the main theme of "Wonderful City," WRCA Radio presentation which starts Tuesday afternoon at 2:05 o'clock, and will continue on a Monday through Friday schedule.

A different kind of giveaway show, with emphasis on human aspirations and needs, this new audience participation program goes into the time spot formerly occupied by the 'Woman in Love" series.

Eddie Dunn, formerly of "True or False", will emcee the program, assisted by Dan Peterson, who will act as official greeter and pass out the prizes.

Moral Leadership

"Where Should Youth Seek Moral Leadership?" will be the subject discussed on "America's Town Meeting of the Air" tonight over WNAB and WABC at 8 o'clock.

Governor Frank G. Clement of Tennessee and Jean Voutsa, executive director of the Cooperative League of the United States, author of "The Christian in Politics", and a former congressman from California, will be guests.

The broadcast will originate from the convention of the Youth for Christ International, Winona Lake, Ind., in cooperation with the Winona Lake School of Theology. More than 7,500 theology students and delegates attending the convention will be present at the broadcast.

PARADE ON AIR

The Barnum Festival parade on Monday afternoon will be described over the facilities of radio station WNAB. The broadcast will run from 2:50 to 5 o'clock and the microphones will be set up on the marquee of Loew's Majestic theater; giving the announcers unobscured vision of the gala procession in the street below.

'Deadly Sins'

A new and unique series of programs in the field of contemporary religious investigation and counselling, "The Deadly Sins," featuring Dean James A. Pike of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City, will premiere over WABC radio tonight at 10:15 o'clock.

The "Deadly Sins" (Wrath, Lust, Gluttony, Envy, Covetousness, Sloth and Pride) will be presented as trialogue conversations between a tempted soul, his conscience and the Devil. In dramatic form, the conversations will explore one of the sins each week.

Assisting the Very Rev. Mr. Pike will be the Rev. Harold A. Johnson, canon theologian for the Cathedral, and Ralph Hartwig, member of the Council of the Diocese of New York and lay leader for the church.

The series, a review and re-evaluation of the "Seven Sins" of man in the light of the problems involved in contemporary personal living, will utilize the technique of sermonizing revived and popularized by Dean Pike.

Handel's 'Saul'

Excerpts from Handel's great oratorio "Saul" will be featured on the second broadcast from the Royal Danish Festival in Copenhagen on CBS radio's "World Music Festivals" this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The oratorio will be performed by the Danish State Radio orchestra and choir, with leading soloists, directed by Mogens Woldike, who uses Handel's original instrumentation of organ and harpsichord for the work. The text is based on the First and Second Books of Samuel, which tells of Saul, king of Israel, driven by his envy of David, to death.

MERV GRIFFIN -HOST

Vocalist-composer Merv Griffin will play host to teenagers on CBS television's "Look Up and Live" series during July and August, starting today (10:30-11 a.m.).

Stars In Drama

Josephine Hull will be starred in the drama, "The Meanest Man in the World," when the United States Steel Hour makes its debut on Channels 2 and 8 Wednesday night at 10 o'clock.

Twice-Weekly Show

Patti Page will be seen as the star of her own show on WRCA-TV at 6:30 p.m., on Tuesdays and Thursdays, beginning this week. The program, featuring her song stylings, will be on film.

WQXR to Play U.S. Music On Fourth

Governor W. Averell Harriman of New York will read the Declaration of Independence over WQXR on Monday, as a part of the station's all-day observance of Independence Day. For the 12th consecutive year, WQXR will celebrate America's national holiday by playing only the music of American composers from the 6 a.m. sign-on until the end of the broadcasting day at 1 a.m.

The reading of the Declaration recorded exclusively for WQXR by New York's Governor, will be broadcast between 1:05 and 2 p.m. during a patriotic musical program which will include Schuman's American Festival Overture, Randall Thompson's "A Testament of Freedom," Morton Gould's "Yankee Doodle Goes to Town," and Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Never before has there been available so many works by American composers. From this wealth of Americana WQXR has chosen the music for its nineteen hour schedule which will represent all phases of music including chamber, opera, symphony, folk songs, jazz and show tunes.

The custom of reading the Declaration of Independence some time during July 4 was adopted several years ago by WQXR following the tradition of its parent company, The New York Times, which for more than 30 years has printed a full-page facsimile of the historic document in its July 4 edition.

Telecast TOPICS

BY FRED H. RUSSELL

A countrywide search for promising young comedians and an intensive development of a group of comedy performers already under contract are about to get under way at NBC television. Announcement of the Comedy Performer Development Plan—Phase Two of NBC's multi-million dollar talent and show development project—came from Leonard Hole, NBC director of program development. The two-fold plan is designed (1) to develop a group of NBC contract players—a group that includes Kaye Ballard, Paul Gilbert, Pat Carroll, Jonathan Winters, Sue Carson and Harry Mimmo—and (2) to seek out promising young "unknowns."

Top professional comedy writers will prepare material for these young contract artists and considerable time will be spent with the players themselves so that they will fit into the prepared material.

"Such personal attention will bring forth some really professional exposures for each contract player next season," Mr. Hole said. "At the same time, the Development department will continue its efforts to find additional exposures for these artists on television, radio and in theaters everywhere."

Concurrent with the development of the NBC contract comedy performers will be the search for new young promising comedians.

"This will be handled in much the same way as the nationwide dragnet for promising comedy writers," Mr. Hole said, "except that a good deal more observation and auditions will be involved." There will be extensive scouting for talent in summer playhouses, little theaters, resort hotels, night clubs, and college and university theatricals.

The quest for comedy writers—Phase One of NBC's talent and show development project—began last month. In this search, NBC is enlisting the help of colleges and universities, little theaters, drama schools, and NBC affiliated television and radio stations. Response to the nationwide hunt to uncover promising new comedy writers for the future has been even greater than NBC had anticipated; more than 1,000 aspirants have already submitted comedy material worthy of professional consideration.

Veteran Yachtsman

Andrew Jackson Hedges, 83-year-old yachtsman of Stamford, will be the guest of Jack Barry on "Life Begins at 80" tonight when the program is telecast over Channel 5 at 9:30 o'clock.

A three-minute film showing Mr. Hedges sailing his own sloop on Long Island Sound will be a feature of the program.

Time Changed

"Between the Lines," the panel-discussion program, moves to a new time slot today. Formerly seen Sunday afternoons at 1 o'clock, the program will now be seen at 6:30 p. m., over Channel 5. The time change to the more attractive evening hour was brought about to answer the demand of the Sunday late afternoon-early evening video audience for public affairs programming.

Program Returns

"Chance of a Lifetime," springboard to possible fame and/or fortune for the talented, returns to Channel 7 tonight at 9 o'clock. Dennis James is the master of ceremonies. The program initially was seen on Channel 7 in May of 1952 and later moved to another network. During its history it has given a hand up the ladder of success to some 475 gifted performers and paid them $475,000.

On the program three promising professionals compete each week for a $1,000 prize, plus a week's engagement at New York's Latin Quarter. The winner will return the following week to vie with two other contestants and can continue to win weekly $1,000 purses and extensions of the Latin Quarter engagement as long as the studio audience decrees by applause.

New Program

A new daytime program to be called "People at Home," will be produced under the auspices of the NBC-TV "Home" unit and will be seen immediately preceding that program Mondays through Fridays from 10:45 to 11 a.m., beginning, Monday, Aug. 8.

Arlene Francis, editor in chief of "Home," wil also star on "People at Home," interviewing various newsworthy personalities. The program will consist of live and filmed reports which will bring the daytime audience the most up-to-date news about people from all over the world. It will feature stories of current interest; it will recall stories from the past, bringing up to date the activities of persons who were once prominent in the news, and will bring to light still other stories about obscure individuals who have made some unusual achievement.

Paar Starts Show

Sandra Wirth, baton-twirling Florida beauty queen; Jonathan Winters, cafe comedian; and Burl Ives, the balladeer will be on hand to help Jack Paar launch CBS television's new daytime entertainment series, "The Jack Paar Show" on Monday. The program will be seen over Channel 2 Mondays through Fridays at 1 p. m., replacing two serials, "Inner Flame" and "Road of Life."

Miss Wirth will appear on the Monday program, Winters on the Thursday show and Ives will fill the Friday guest spot.

Educational Series

WCBS-TV's multi-award-winning educational series, "Camera Three," begins its "Summer Session, 1955" today presenting Dr. Ashley Montagu, chairman of the department of anthropology at Rutgers university, in a study of "The Nature of Human Nature" over Channel 2 at 3:30 p.m.

Dr. Montagu, a frequent "Camera Three" performer, will discuss the concept of human relationship he has developed in his new book, "The Direction of Human Development." The book, on which Dr. Montagu has been at work for the past 10 years, sets out to break down the old "survival of the fittest" theory, proposing instead that

TV NEWSREEL

By "JOE" LEDERER

Mary Martin won the highest audience honors for the 1954-55 TV season with her two hour "Peter Pan" spectacular, viewed by nearly 57,000,000 people. Only two other shows (Jackie Gleason and Ed Sullivan entries) broke the 50 million audience mark for a single program.

By the way, we've received some of the finest General Electric Automatic Washers I have ever seen. They're beauties, all have the advanced new features and prices start at a low, low $199.95. Be sure to see the new Filter-Flo G-E Washer that actually filters and refilters the wash water.

Miss Martin will be back for the first "Spec" of the 1955-56 season. She joins with Helen Hayes on September 11th on NBC to star in the play, "The Skin of Our Teeth," now playing in Paris. Like "Peter Pan," this will be a full two-hour show.

Next time that you plan to buy a TV — make it a G-E. I've had them in my home for years and I can vouch for those bright, clear, sharp pictures. Down at the store we have a big selection of those powerful new 1955 models—and G-E even has a big 21" console for only $199.95. Next time you're downtown, stop in won't you?

Janis Paige bowed out of the Broadway cast of "Pajama Game" last week and left New York for Hollywood. She immediately begins filming her new video series, "It's Always Jan," set to debut on NBC September 10th. The series revolves around three girls who share an apartment, with Miss Paige cast as a night-club entertainer to use her singing talents. Directing the new show will be Sheldon Leonard, who's won honors for his direction of the Danny Thomas "Make Room for Daddy" series. In case you don't recognize the name, you've seen Leonard about a million times as a gangster in movies and on TV, including the Jack Benny shows.

Maria Riva, Marlene Dietrich's daughter, has the title of a "real live television star." During the past four years she has appeared in more than 400 live TV shows.
