Eisenhower Says United GOP Can Hold White House 'Forever'

WASHINGTON, July 29—(AP) President Eisenhower said today the Republicans would retain control of the national administration "forever" if they would unite behind the principles he advocates.

6 YOUTHS SEIZED IN FATAL BEATING

WORCESTER, Mass., July 29—(AP) Five youths, accused of beating two men, one fatally, in a 12-cent robbery Wednesday, were held without bond on murder charges after their arrest today.

Dead from a beating was T. J. "Tex" Holder, 46, an unemployed painter. His companion, John E. Nepewski, 70, who suffered minor injuries, said he and Holder were set upon in Crompton park and their wallets taken.

Mr. Eisenhower urged the legislators to carry a positive message back to their constituents when Congress adjourns.

Hagerty quoted Mr. Eisenhower as saying that from the day he began to weaken in his concept that a soldier has no business in politics his primary aim has been to do what he could to unify the Republican party behind principles that the people would accept in trust and confidence.

If this is done, the President said he believed the Republican party would "stay here forever," because the GOP then would be able to select candidates with one purpose—the best interests of the United States.

Hagerty said that by "stay here forever" the President meant the GOP could keep control of the national administration indefinitely.

Mr. Eisenhower defined as a true Republican one who best represents the principles for which the party stands, and who does not seek election just because he is a Republican.

Referring to last week's Big Four meeting in Geneva, Mr. Eisenhower said he had read some suggestions that the American people may have been led to expect too much too soon from the meeting, and that a let-down would work against the Republicans.

"Both complete both," he said. Of course this country is going to keep up its necessary strength, he said, and gauge its exact needs in the world and those of its allies.
