

TURNING THE DIALS

BY FRED H. RUSSELL

A remote broadcast from Gracie Mansion in New York with Gabe Pressman, the roving reporter talking to Mayor and Mrs. Robert Wagner across their breakfast table will lead off WRCA new morning program "New York Pulse with Bill Cullen."

Designed to bring the latest events around the New York area (in addition to music and news) to early morning listeners, the program will have two reporters covering the New York area in auto units especially equipped with remote broadcast and recording facilities.

Pressman will report on the scene accounts of new stories as they happen, using the News department station wagon, and newly assigned Ray Owens will cover special features, broadcasting remote from the WRCA newsmobile.

Special features scheduled for Owen, include (tomorrow), a ride down Third Avenue, from one end of Manhattan to the other, pausing to question people on the street concerning their feelings on the demise of the "El" Tuesday, Owen will drive the newsmobile into Madison Square Garden to interview various persons connected with the Horse Show.

Other features include covering the filming of "Sold Gold Cadillac" in Rockefeller Plaza and the observance of National Cat Week with a trip to the lions' cage at Central Park Zoo.

Sally McGuire of the New York Visitors' Bureau will be heard daily broadcasting the activities in New York, and Tex and Dixie McCarty will be heard presenting their well-known personalities in the news interviews.

Walter Slezak and Margaret Truman will be among the celebrities who will drop by the WRCA early-morning studio for a cup of coffee and a chat with Cullen during the first week of the program.

In addition, Cullen will present time, weather and traffic information and play old and new record favorites.

The program will be heard Monday through Friday.

Crane in Print Bob Crane, WICC's wake-up disk jockey, will open some eyes on Tuesday when he appears in two different magazines on the stands that day.

The December TV Radio and Mirror will have a vignette on him and the annual Who's Who in TV and Radio will also feature him. Listeners to his daily 6 to 10-15 a.m. show will be surprised at TV Radio Mirror's statement he has been at WICC only a few months. It was an error that "just happened."

Clark To Star Dane Clark, motion picture leading man who began his career in radio, returns to that medium to star in an exciting science-fiction adventure "Destination Mars" on "Radio Theater" this afternoon at 5:05 o'clock. The program is part of the station's "Monitor" service.

Clark portrays a young scientist who is selected to fly the first rocket ship to Mars. The first surprise of the expedition occurs when he discovers a beautiful stowaway aboard the rocket, and the second when a race of "blue men" living on Mars seize control of his ship and introduce its crew to their strange civilization. Les Tremayne, Jean Howell and Jack Edwards play the principal supporting roles.

Music Show "Drive East," a smart and unusual music series, premieres on WOR tomorrow. The program, featuring Jean Shepherd and Tommy Reynolds and his orchestra will be heard daily from 4 to 5 p. m.

Combining the smartness of the East Side clubs with the high drive of jazz, the program will explore unusual musical techniques. Experimenting with new and unusual forms of popular music, the show will include such innovations as the sound of a thousand trumpets playing "Stardust." Old songs, new songs and songs that are composed as they are played will be part of the daily events.

Operating like a perpetual "open house," the show will be an informal, relaxing program of music and chatter.

Folks Requesting In reply to many requests, Ruth Steinkraus will weave a program around folk music of various nations on "Music for a Sunday Evening" tonight over WICC from 11 o'clock. English country music discovered by Percy Grainger will be played, as well as folk songs of Ireland, Scotland, Russia, Germany and Czechoslovakia.

One unusual piece will be the familiar "Auld Lang Syne" with an accompaniment written by Beethoven. At the time he did this, the German composer found himself in the familiar predicament of the artist he was broke and needed the work. Miss Steinkraus will also examine music more contemporary composers who use folk themes in their works.

Veterans Day A dramatized tribute to Veterans Day will be presented on the "American Jewish Caravan of Stars" over WJGM today from 12:30 to 1:30 P. M.

Veterans Day, observed on Nov. 11, was originally known as Armistice Day.

'Today's Girl'

Lee Meriwether, Miss America 1955, now is a regular member of NBC-TV's "Today" program. "Today's Girl," a 20-year-old native of Los Angeles, interviews guests and reports on the latest weather and fashion news.

Justice Day, on June 1, 1954, the name was changed to Veterans to honor all men and women who have served America in its armed forces.

Emceeding the 60-minute variety show will be Larry Alpert, the comedian.

Warfield to Sing William Warfield, baritone, will make his second guest appearance on the "Telephone Hour" tomorrow night at 9 o'clock over WRCA. The concert artist will sing Robert Schumann's "The Two Grenadiers," two sea chanteys arranged by Dougherty, "Shenandoah" and "Mobile Bay," and from the realm of opera, the "Drinking Song" from Thomas' "Hamlet."

Middle East "What Should Be Our Middle East Policy?" will be the topic of America's Town Meeting of the Air tonight from 8 to 9 o'clock over WJAB and WABC. The timely question will be discussed by two speakers—William Hetherington, UN correspondent for the Newark (N.J.) News; and Harvey P. Hall, editor of the Middle East Journal. The program will originate from New York City and Gunnar Back will be moderator.

Teenage Driving Harry Downie, proprietor of the "Harry Downie Show" over WJGM on weekdays at 2:30 p. m., is inviting all his listeners to submit their opinions on one of the current questions of the day—the problem of what further restrictions, if any, should be instituted in Connecticut to limit teenage driving.

This question, currently occupying much attention on Capitol Hill in Hartford and elsewhere, is one Downie believes on which the public should be heard and he suggests that anyone with any opinion whatsoever drop him a line addressed to WJGM.

WHITE BUZZARD

WHITE HOUSE, Va. Nov. 5 (AP)—K. W. Harland, of Richmond, bagged a big white bird on the Pamunkey River. It was identified as a white buzzard and the only one anyone in this area could remember. Albinism occurs in almost all species but is rare in buzzards.
