NBC-TV to Drop School Show Next Month

By FRED H. RUSSELL

In an end-of-the-year realignment of morning programs NBC-TV plans to drop "Ding Dong School," the television show for youngsters of nursery school age.

The "Home" show will be shifted from its 11 a. m. to noon time period into the 10 to 11 a. m. slot Monday through Fridays. For the last four years the first half-hour of that spot has been filled by "Ding Dong School" and "Bandstand" the last half this season.

Added will be a new audience participation show, "The Price is Right." This will replace "Bandstand" starting next Monday and at the start of the new year will move to the 11 to 11:30 a. m. time slot. At that time still another new program, as yet unannounced, will be scheduled in the 11:30 a. m. to noon period.

Dr. Frances Horwich, who created, produces and is featured in "Ding Dong School" will keep her position as supervisor of children's programs for the National Broadcasting Company.

STENOGRAPHER OF THE MONTH

AUDREY BREINER

"My secretarial training at Butler's adequately prepared me for the next position I now have at Manning, Maxwell, and Moore. My course included SPEEDWRITING shorthand which I found much easier and quicker to learn than a symbol system. It's an accurate, dependable shorthand and I recommend it."

Thousands of SPEEDWRITING secretaries and stenographers throughout the country are equally enthusiastic about this amazing shorthand system. Job opportunities were never greater. Learn SPEEDWRITING shorthand now and get ahead! Inquiries are welcome. Trial lesson free. EP 3-3601 for details.

FIVE ASSIGNED

One measure of the success of NBC's comedy writers development plan has been announced by network. Five of the nine young comedy writers placed under contract just about a year ago are now regularly assigned to NBC television shows.

Twenty-year-old Woody Allen, whose father had to sign his contract for him last year to make it legal, is with "Stanley" starring Buddy Hackett, Herb Reich, Herb Hudley and Mike Miller are with "Washington Square," starring Ray Bolger. Paul Hayes is with "Tonight." The four others, Lois Balk, Bernieason, Bruce Howard and Phil Green, are currently on special or roving assignments.

HIGH SCHOOL LEVEL

ABC-TV's College Press Conference, is launching a new program to stimulate interest in current events on the high school level.

The program's "reporters," who quiz the news figures appearing as guest each week, are college students. Through the Weekly American Observer, which circulates to 3,000,000 secondary school students all over America, the program will now have questions submitted by high school level boys and girls as well.

Each week the high school students will send questions directed at that week's guest, to the Observer. Its editors will select the best queries, on the basis of news importance, timeliness and aptness for the particular guest. Ruth Geri Hagy, moderator of the series, will identify the senders and ask the questions on the air.
