

Symphony on Air with Dr. Prager, 'Man's Back

The first of two broadcasts by the Wisconsin Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Sleg-irid Prager and originating in Milwaukee's Humboldt park, will make its debut tonight at 8:30 over station WBBM.

"Jitterbugs" can do some high class jittering tonight because Benny Goodman returns to the "mike" after spending the last two weeks in Europe. Station WBBM is the place and 7:30 p. m. is the time. See you there.

Other programs, selected as aces, classified to save time.

Musical

6 p. m.—Dancetime (WLS): another session of popular music for dinner consumption.

7:15 p. m.—Grant Park concert (WGN): the Chicago Symphony orchestra features strings' compositions.

8 p. m.—Hal Kemp (WBBM): a studio celebration in music commemorating the orchestra's 12th birthday.

8:30 p. m. — The Northerners (WGN): the quartet has Louisa Hoe as guest soloist, who will feature the "Indian Love Call" as her "top" song.

9:15 p. m. — Vocal Varities (WIBA): the choir features "If It Rains, Who Cares" and the announcer too many commercials.

Discussion

6:30 p. m.—Information Please (WLS): Songwriters Kaufman and Hart get together with the regular crew in the informal discussion programs on the air.

7 p. m. — Capital vs. Labor (WLS): another in the series on "Cooperation Between Capital and Labor" with Louis K. Comstock and Matthew Woll representing capital and labor, respectively.

8:45 p. m. — Jay Franklin (WENR): a report on the State and the Nation by Jay Franklin, Washington columnist.

Variety

8 p. m.—Robert Ripley (WIBA): a demonstration of "hot feet" will be described when a Hindu mystic walks across white hot coals—interesting to see but you can't do that on the radio.

7 p. m.—Don't You Believe It (WGN): some interesting tales concerning "Gone With the Wind" which are false.

Drama

5:30 p. m. — Helen Menken (WBBM): beginning of the second year of "Second Husband" series.

6 p. m.—Four Corners theater (WBBM): a rural farce, "Aunt Jerushy on the Warpath" will be the presentation.

7 p. m.—Grand Central station (WBBM): another program concerning happenings in the busiest railroad terminal in the world.

7:30 p. m. — Attorney at Law (WIBA): the next adventure for Terry Regan is "The Man Who Slept With His Hat On."

Wednesday

10:30 a. m.—Farm and Home hour (WIBA): home demonstration work discussion will be presented.

1 p. m. — International club (WIBA): from the university comes a discussion of "The Woman's Position in Turkey" by Orhan Yirmibesh and Semih Odman.

2 p. m. — News and Views (WHA): Katherine Edbrooke speaks on "England's Approach to Education."

3 p. m.—Nathan Slaus (KMOX): gives his report on national slum clearance and low rent housing program from what he saw after visiting 12 cities.

3 p. m. — Columbia choir (WMAQ): a program of religious choral music by the Columbia University Mixed choir.

4:30—Old Songs week (WBBM): a salute to the music leaders of the earlier generations.