Benny Goodman, whose Tuesday Night Swing School now is broadcast from the New York CBS studios, is working on a follow-up to his book, "The Kingdom of Swing," which has earned the respectful attention of critics throughout the country. The new volume, on which the Swing Monarch has started writing, will deal with the future of swing music, starting where the other left off.

When George Burns and Gracie Allen take a vacation at the end of June, their good friend, Mary Kelly, now in the supporting cast of their New York-originated programs, will accompany them west for a visit.

Les Tremayne, bachelor lead on "Betty and Bob," is house-hunting . . . but it's not marriage that causes it. Les merely wants to trade his Chicago apartment for a country place this summer.

This week's survey of the "Good Will Hour" fan mail reveals that men seek more advice about their marital problems than women do, according to Director John J. Anthony.
