Raymond Paige is currently working on a new arrangement of "I Love a Parade" which he will feature on the "Raymond Paige, 99 Men and a Girl" program over CBS July 21.

Kay Kyser is continuing to set the west coast on its ears by amassing new attendance records wherever he plays. His "College of Musical Knowledge" unit last week set a record of $38,000 for the Paramount theater in Los Angeles. Last mark was set by Mae West more than a year ago.

When Phil Spitalny resumes Sept. 17 over the NBC-Red network on a Sunday spot, an added starter on the show may be James Montgomery Flagg, the illustrator.

Phil Tulley, singer on "Johnny Presents," is headed for an opera career. He joins the Chicago Civic Opera co. the end of the year.

Floyd Sherman, soloist on "Johnny Presents" auditioned this week for the tenor spot on Jack Benny's program, left vacant by the exit of Kenny Baker.

There is a dicker on now for the script show, written by J. P. McEvoy, based on his popular comic strip, Dixie Dugan, and titled with that name. If the show takes the air this fall it will be a half hour weekly presentation.
