

Famous Soldier Of Fortune To Tell Of His Adventures

Tex O'Reilly Set On Broadcast At 7 P. M. Monday; New Geraldine Farrar Tune To Have Premiere

Mutiny on the high seas; intrigue in an oriental court and near-death in the lonely sky will be dealt with by applicants for membership in The Order of Adventurers when they relate their experiences over the WJZ network Monday at 7 p. m.

Tex O'Reilly, world-famous soldier of fortune; Swanee Taylor, equally well-known stunt flier, and Soren Willeson, a hard-bitten sea captain from Malden, Mass., will sit in Marco Polo's chair and tell their spine-tingling true stories for the benefit of the radio audience and the club's executive board. The board is made up of Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Lowell Thomas, Commander Felix Riesenbergl and Roy Chapman Andrews.

O'Reilly, who is the hero of Lowell Thomas' book, "Born to Raise Hell," started out as a newspaperman but found soldiering more to his taste. He will tell of the time when he and 65 other swash-bucklers were hired as a bodyguard for the Emperor of Korea. When the emperor tried to break his contract the soldiers took over an entire town and lived like kings themselves until the monarch decided it would be cheaper to pay them off.

Taylor's yarn has to do with his first flight in a free balloon. The pilot, who had flown every type of plane imaginable, took the balloon trip as a joke until he got up several thousand feet and discovered that he had forgotten to find out how to get down.

Captain Willeson, a member of The Order of Adventurers' listening audience who applied for membership by mail, will relate the story of a mutiny which took place on his ship, the "Willhilo," on the high seas off La Union, San Salvador.

The first public performance of Geraldine Farrar's new composition, "Whisper You Care," will be given by Felix Knight, tenor, and the Victor Concert Orchestra, conducted by Nathaniel Shilkret, during the Magic Key program at 8 p. m. over WJZ. Featured guests on the program will be Sheila Barrett, mimic, and Vincent Lopez and his Victor recording orchestra. They will be joined by Colonel Stoopnagle, the Rodgers Sisters and LeRoy Miller.

"You Are Old, Father William," based on the poem in "Alice in Wonderland," will be featured by Ray Perkins on his song and patter program over WJZ at 5.30 p. m. Ray also will do musical tricks with Chopin's C Sharp Minor Waltz.

"Conquerors of the Water," a biological study of aquatic animals, will be conducted by Dr. Carroll Lane Fenton during his Science on the March program over WJZ, at 6.15 p. m. In his talk Dr. Fenton will emphasize the ability of fish to live in various underwater homes. Source material from Brian Curtis' "Life Story of the Fish" and "Giant Fishes, Whales and Dolphins" by J. R. Norman and F. C. Fraser will be used.

Margaret Speaks, soprano, will sing the familiar Aid de Lia from Debussy's "L'Enfante Prodigue" as a highlight of the concert conducted by Alfred Wallenstein at 7.30 p. m. over WJZ. Miss Speaks' other solos will be "O Dry Those Tears" by Del Riego, "Beautiful Lady" by Caryll and "Song of Songs" by Moya. Orchestral selections will include the Overture to Nicolai's "Merry Wives of Windsor," the Strauss waltz, "Wine, Women and Song," and the Polka from Weinberger's "Schwanda."

Seattle, Washington, will be saluted musically by members of the Contented program at 9 p. m. over WJZ. Songs associated with the Western metropolises will be featured. The Continentals Quartet and the orchestra will be heard in "It's A Hundred to One You're
