

Today's Radio Highlights

Walter Johnson describes the Washington-Boston baseball game—WJSV, 3:30 p. m.

The 100th anniversary of the birth of Frances Willard, founder of the W. C. T. U., is observed in speeches by Representative Caroline O'Day of New York and Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, Methodist Bishop of Washington—WMAL, 8 p. m.

The NBC Symphony plays an all-Sibelius program, including the Seventh Symphony, under the baton of Finland's Georg Schneevoigt—WMAL, 9 p. m.

A cast of more than 500 perform Archibald MacLeish's radio poem, "The Fall of the City," first performed in 1937. Since Mr. McLeish is now the Librarian of Congress, this performance should be of especial interest to Capitalites—WJSV, 10 p. m.

Bing Crosby returns to his Music Hall—WRC, 10 p. m.