

Today's Radio Highlights

Capt. William Applebye Robinson, retired 73-year-old Yorkshire seaman, brings sea chanties to Folk Music of America on the American School of the Air—WJSV, 9:15 a. m.

Owen White commences a series concerning the rapidly expanding international shore wave broadcasts—WRC, 1 p. m.

"Women on the Land" is the subject of this week's Gallant American Women—WMAL, 2 p. m.

That Pot o' Gold is boiling again—WRC, 8:30 p. m.

Postmaster General James A. Farley joins the Information, Please line-up, while a group of brainy alumni have a reunion to celebrate the program's first anniversary under its present sponsor—WMAL, 8:30 p. m.

Helen Hayes' mother, Mrs. Katherine Hayes Brown, whose biography of her actress daughter is appearing in a current magazine, reminisces about Washington's favorite daughter on We, the People—WJSV, 9 p. m.

Dr. de Roulhac Hamilton of the University of North Carolina Meets Mr. Weeks to discuss manuscripts—WMAL, 9:30 p. m.

Alfred Wallenstein continues his Mozart Concerto series with Nadia Reisenberg at the piano. This evening's selection is the Concerto No. 9 (K 271)—WOL, 9:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Powell (Joan Blondell) join Fun With the Famous—WMAL 10:30 p. m.

Former Governor of New Hampshire, John Winant, now American director of the International Labor Office speaks on "The International Labor Office Today"—WJSV, 10:45 p. m.