

Paulette Goddard Scheduled On Air Show With Bob Hope

Lovely Star To Be Heard At 10 P. M. Tuesday; Henry Aldrich Gets All Mixed Up In Romantic Adventures

Paulette Goddard, currently appearing on the screen with Bob Hope in the mystery comedy, "The Cat and the Canary," will make an air appearance with the comedian during his broadcast Tuesday at 10:00 p. m. over WEAF.

The lovely actress, who hails from Great Neck, L. I., will be the second guest star to be featured on the series. The first was Madeleine Carroll. Judy Garland, Jerry Colonna and Skinnay Ennis' orchestra will help maintain order.

Henry Aldrich, not even giving Leap Year a chance to get in its traditional work, gets the love bug and ends up engaged to marry enough girls to start a harem during the "Aldrich Family" broadcast, starring Ezra Stone, over WEAF, Tuesday at 8:00 p. m.

"Scatterbrain," top hit song this week, will be featured by Johnny Green and his orchestra on the "Johnny Presents" program over WEAF Tuesday at 8 p. m. Other numbers are "Way Back in 1939, A. D." "At the Balalaika," "The Song Is You" and "Fine and Dandy." Featured vocalists are Genevieve Rowe and the Swing Fourteen. The dramatization will be another "Undercover Squad" story by Max Marcin, directed by Jack Johnstone. Johnny the Call Boy acts as master of ceremonies.

"The Life of Sam Houston," Pulitzer prize winning biography by Marquis James, with Walter Huston in the lead, will be presented as the second chapter of Cavalcade of America, Tuesday at 9:00 p. m., over WJZ.

Huston will be heard as Sam Houston, one of the most colorful figures in American history. It was his dream of "empire" and indomitable will that led a handful of settlers to revolt against Mexican tyranny and win their independence.

One $10,000 estate and an unclaimed legacy of $13,000 will be highlights of the Court of Missing Heirs broadcast Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. over WABC. The $10,000 legacy was left by the widow of an army officer, whom she married after he rescued her from highwaymen in the middlewest. The second unclaimed legacy was left by an Irishman who died in a fire in Chicago back in 1924.

Wistful Vista will be the setting for the Fibber-McGee and Molly program Tuesday, 9:30 p. m. when Jimmy Shields sings "All the Things You Are," and Billy Mills plays "Fascinating Rhythm" over WEAF.

Edna Ferber, outstanding American novelist whose literary contributions include "Show Boat," "Cimarron," "Dinner at Eight," "Stage Door" and the recent autobiography, "A Peculiar Treasure," will join the board of experts over WJZ Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. With Miss Ferber will be Oscar Levant, Franklin P. Adams and John Kieran in meeting the flow of questions by Clifton Fadiman.

A team of male household servants will match wits against a team of feminine domestics on the Battle of the Sexes program Tuesday, at 9 p. m., over WEAF on the eve before the annual Butler's
