

24-Year-Old Flute Student To Be Soloist On Program

Ruth Freeman Is Guest On Musical Americana Hour Thursday; Martha Raye Set With Rudy Vallee Show

Ruth Freeman, 24-year-old flute student of the Julliard Graduate school, will be the featured soloist on Musical Americana Thursday at 8 p. m. over WJZ. Miss Freeman, a native of Cleveland, and former Oberlin college student, will play Ganne's Andante et Scherzo for Flute.

The program also lists Simon's "Gaucha Serenade," "By the Water of Minnetonka," by Lieurence, Raymond Scott's "Toy Trumpet," "S. O. S." by Herbert Braine and Handy's "St. Louise Blues."

Martha Raye will be the wide-eyed—and mouthed—Pocahontas when pale-faced Rudy Vallee tears along the war-path of history as Captain John Smith during the pow-wow, Thursday at 9:30 p. m. over WEAJ.

Humphrey Bogart will be the guest of Bing Crosby in the Music Hall program over WEAJ Thursday at 10 p. m. Milton Berle and Henry T. Harrison, meteorologist for United Airlines, will hail the advent of spring as guests of George Jessel during the broadcast Thursday at 8:00 p. m., over WEAJ. Harrison will spend the day checking instruments and charts, and on the broadcast will hazard a prediction on Easter weather. Benay Venuta, singing star; Charlie Cantor, as "O. L. Scrum," and Peter Van Steeden's orchestra round out the show.

A musical narration titled "Vocalizing Song," in which the voices of lovely Mary Martin and dashing Dick Powell are blended in perfect harmony will be the feature on "Good News of 1940," Thursday at 9 p. m. over WEAJ. Fanny Brice as Baby Snooks, and Hanley Stafford as Daddy, will offer another in their series of domestic "mirthquakes."

Miscellaneous . . . A new daytime program of unusual interest is the "Light of the World," broadcast at 2 p. m. Fridays over WEAJ. This program translates the Bible into modern prose, and retains Dr. James H. Moffatt, of
