

Today's Radio Highlights

Gracie Allen, running for the Presidency for all she's worth, holds the convention of her "Laugh Party" tonight at Omaha—WJSV, 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Christian, played by Jean Hersholt, who has spent most of his time, since the Quints arrived, portraying kindly medicos, solves the problems of the "Visiting Lady"—WJSV, 8:30 p. m.

Mr. T. Hee, who makes his living directing funny pictures, is the "Person You Didn't Expect to Meet" on Mr. Allen's hour—WRC, 9 p. m.

Douglass Montgomery, of the films, Florence Reed, the immortal Mother Goddam of "Shanghai Gesture," and more recently seen in "Outward Bound," and Helen Claire, whose Cindy Lou of "Kiss the Boys Goodbye" made theatrical history, combine their talents to present Elizabeth McFadden's "Double Door." Under the guiding hand of Burns Mantle, the play, a hit of the 1933-34 season, unfolds the story of a battle for power in an old New York family, culminating on the verge of murder—WJSV, 9 p. m.

Hon. Daniel A. Reed, Congressman from New York, addresses the radio audience on the "Bureaucratic Laws of the Census"—WMAL, 9:45 p. m.
