

Today's Radio Highlights

11:05 a. m., WMAL—Dr. Henry MacCracken, president of Vassar College, talks with former graduates on "What Should a Women's College Do Today?" commemorating the college's seventy-fifth anniversary.

12:30 p. m., WJSV—"Your Charm Quotient" is elucidated by Mrs. Elbert Williams, national president of the Camp Fire Girls, at the board's biennial meeting in New York.

5, WRC—Norman Thomas speaks his mind on our troubled world.

6, WJSV—"Should the Johnson Act be revised and should we lend money to the Allies?" This is the question debated on the provocative People's Platform.

7, WMAL—Representative Martin Dies views "The Fifth Column."

7, WRC—"The First Born," an antiwar play by Elaine Stenne Carrington.

7:30, WRC—Bill Gottlieb talks swing with the swing-conscious sons of Turkish Ambassador Ertogun.

8:30, WOL—Alfred Wallenstein conducts two little-known Mozart one-act operas: "Schauspieldirektor" and "Bastien und Bastienne," with Vivien Della Chiesa, John Gurney, George Rasely, Ronald Marsilia, Genevieve Rowe and Helen Marshall singing the six roles.

9:30, WRC—Alfred P. Sloan, chairman of the board of General Motors, is interviewed by Merle Thorpe, editor of the Nation's Business, in a special broadcast.

10:45, WOL—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio addresses the War Veterans Republican Club.

11:30, WRC—San Francisco's World's Fair on Treasure Island reopens with talks by Mayor Angelo Rossi, Gov. Floyd Olsen and music from Susanna Foster, Bruce Holden and Lila Deane.