

Elementals' te Series Playhouse

Authors' Playhouse will make its initial appearance tonight at 9 through WIBA and WENR when Stephen Vincent Benet's "Elementals," a prose tale bolstered by music, is presented. The series will be devoted strictly to dramatization of prose works and in succeeding weeks, stories by Irvin S. Cobb and Ring Lardner will be aired.

Another dramatic feature on WIBA tonight will be the story of Marcus Mills Pomeroy, Wisconsin editor of Civil war days, to be presented at 7:30. Marcus Ford will have the leading role.

Other outstanding programs for tonight follow, classified:

Drama

6:30 p. m. — Cavalcade (WMAQ) Henry Hull, of the stage, in the story of William Penn . . . Mr. Meek (WBBM): the mythical Jones threatens Mortimer.

7 p. m. — Big Town (WBBM): "Ambulance at Dawn," a story of night club mobsters.

7:30 p. m. — Manhattan at Midnight (WENR): Dorothy Kilgallen and Richard Kollmar in "Dorothy Kilgallen, A Columnist."

8:30 p. m. — Mr. District Attorney (WMAQ): "Murder by Mail" via the postman.

9:30 p. m. — Doctors at Work (WIBA, WENR): the medical hurdles of the army.

Variety

7:30 p. m. — Plantation Party (WMAQ): living on someone else's income.

8 p. m. — Eddie Cantor (WMAQ): with Humphrey Bogart and Hattie McDaniel on bringing up the baby. . . . Fred Allen (WBBM): a streamlined show.

Quiz

7 p. m. — Quiz Kids (WLS): Mrs. Dorothy Lewis of the Radio Council of Children's programs makes sure the kids don't cheat.

Music

9:30 p. m. — Girl About Town (WBBM): Joan Edwards, singer-pianist, opens new series with "Just Quote Me."