

Louise King sings lullabies on the NBC Monday Contented program, but she's fond of all music from swing to symphony. As a matter of fact, she was soloist on a Canadian swing concert, "Symphony in Swing", in which Oscar Levant was a guest star. Gershwin's one of her favorite composers.

Cavalcade of America Shifts to Mondays; Muni Plays 'Edwin Booth'

Cavalcade of America, previously heard on Wednesdays, will shift to Mondays starting tonight, being broadcast over WMAQ at 9:30. Paul Muni will star in tonight's program, playing the role of "Edwin Booth, the Greatest American Actor." The biographical story concerns Booth's life after his brother, Jim Wilkes, assassinated Abraham Lincoln.

Other programs for tonight, classified:

Musical

7 p. m. — James Melton (WMAQ): Rachmaninoff's "O Cease Thy Singing, Maiden Fair."

7:30 p. m. — Margaret Speaks (WMAQ): Margaret Speaks returns, singing Liszt's "Liebestrom."

7:45 p. m. — Pioneer Gleeman (WIBA): from the Platteville State Teachers college.

8:30 p. m. — Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin Street (WIBA, WENR): Gene Krupa, the guy with the percussion complex.

9 p. m. — Contented Hour (WMAQ): the "Toreador" song from "Carmen."

Discussion

9:30 p. m.—National Radio Forum (WIBA, WENR): Rep. Sam Hobbs (D., Ala.) on "Strikes."

Drama

8 p. m. — Radio Theater (WBBM): Wallace Berry, Mickey Rooney, Noah Berry, and Fay Wray in "Stablemates."

9 p. m.—Story Dramas (WIBA): "The False Gems," a Guy de Maupassant story on luxury . . . Playshop (WIND): "The World is a Stage" . . . Famous Jury Trials (WENR): "The Treason Trial of Aaron Burr."

9:30 p. m. — Blondie (WBBM): between the stockholders and Dagwood.

Variety

7:30 p. m. — Gay Nineties (WBBM): "Ring Down the Curtain—I Can't Sing Tonight."

8:30 p. m. — Show Boat (WMAQ): boss trouble.

Tuesdaytime

4 p. m. — Great Artists (WGN): the lawless west.

4:30 p. m. — Citizens All (WENR): "We, the Government."

Jack Hartley, seated at the little school desk has become radio's newest magic carpet, calls in Martin Agronsky, Ankara correspondent, while John W. Vandercook, commentator on "News of the World" over the NBC-Red network, talks to John MacVane, in London, about the day's events in the war over Britain.