Deems Taylor To Be Second Guest, Serving With John Kieran And Franklin P. Adams On
Program At 7:30 P. M. Friday

Russell ("Buck") Crouse, once a chronic visitor to the "Information Please" experts' table, but missing for 15 months, will turn up again for a grilling by Clifton Fadiman on the WEAf broadcast, Friday at 7:30 p. m.

Deems Taylor, music critic and composer, will be the second guest serving with John Kieran and Franklin P. Adams. It will be Taylor's 16th time as an expert. He also has cracked the ringmaster whip on two occasions in Fadiman's absence, and is now the permanent vice-conductor.

Frank Munn, tenor star of "Waltz Time," will sing "Time Was" by Russel-Prado, "Humoresque" by Dvorak, and "Love's Old Sweet Song" by Malloy during the broadcast, Friday at 8 p. m. over WEAf.

How Edgar Simmons fairly danced his way into the dog house will be dramatized in the WEAf broadcast of "Uncle Walter's Dog House," Friday at 8:30 p. m.

The story of a non-com who saved the lives of two flying companions in the ocean crash of an army bomber will be told on "Wings of Destiny," Friday at 9 p. m. over WEAf.

The flying non-com was Sgt. Harry M. Hayes.

Selective service men from a U. S. Army post in the New York City area will be interviewed by Parks Johnson and Wally Battenworth on the second of their new "Vox Pop" series over WJZ Friday at 8 p. m.

"The Lady or the Tiger," Frank Stockton's famous short story with the provocative ending, will be heard during Nelson Olmsted's Story-Dramas broadcast, Friday at 9:45 p. m. over WJZ.

"Dark Victory," which almost won an Academy Award for Bette Davis when she starred in it on the screen, will be adapted for radio by Charles Martin and presented on "Great Moments From Great Plays" over WABC Friday

FARMER ESCAPES INJURIES WHEN BULL ATTACKS

(Special To The Lima News)

MINSTER, Aug. 15—Leo Boerger, farmer living near here, was bruised and frightened but escaped serious injury when attacked by a bull as he was getting the cows on his farm yesterday.

Seeing the bull charging, Boerger ran from the animal and his leg became entangled in a fence which he tried to hurdle. The animal rammed head down into the barrier, and the jam caused the frightened man's leg to be released. He fell on the opposite side of the fence.
