

New Weekly Serial T Initial Bow Monday

"That Brewster Boy" Is Title Of Story
Teen Age Extravert Whose Doings
Things Lively At All Times

"That Brewster Boy," the story of Joey Brewster, an 18-year-old extravert, whose unquenchable clan gets into all sorts of mischief and his friends involved in interminable escapades, will bow in as a new weekly half-hour series on WEAF at 8:30 p. m. Monday.

With school days at hand, America's educators will receive a musical salute during the "Carnation Contented" program Monday at 9 p. m. over WEAF.

Conductor Percy Faith's orchestral bouquets will include "Spirit of the Air Corps" by Clinch "Southern Roses" by J. Strauss, Grieg's Norwegian Dance No. 2, and the march from "Tannhauser" by Wagner. Lee Childs, soprano, will sing "In the Gloom" by Harrison, Tenor William Miller will offer "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen" by Westendorf, and the chorus will present "Old Black Joe" by Stephen Foster, Lullaby Lady Evelyn Ames also will be heard.

Newly returned from her vacation in the Maine woods, Margaret Speaks, soprano, will be at her accustomed spot on "The Voice of Firestone" program Monday, from 7:30 p. m. over WEAF.

"Salome's Dance", by Richard Strauss, a work inspired by Oscar Wilde's one-act drama, "Salome", will be one of the numbers featured by the Bell Symphonic Orchestra under the direction of Donald Voorhees on "The Telephone Hour" Monday at 7 p. m. over WEAF.
