

King's Men To Serenade Fibber McGee On Tuesday

Blind Texas Whistler Will Be Featured On Horace Heidt's Program At 8:30 P. M.; Many Stars On Treasury Program

Fibber McGee and Molly, fresh from their visit to Charley McCarthy last Sunday, present a hilarious episode from Wistful Vista on Tuesday, at 9:30 p. m. over WEAF. The King's Men will serenade Fibber by singing "Billy Boy" and Martha Tilton will sing the ever popular "Blue Champagne." Billy Mills directs the orchestra.

The eyes of Texas will be upon a native son Tuesday, during the broadcast over WEAF at 8:30 o'clock, with Horace Heidt's "Treasure Chest."

Texas-born Fred Lowery, blind whistler with Heidt's orchestra, will be featured during the broadcast from Houston, and the band is designating the week the band is in Texas as "Fred Lowery Week." As an added feature a new song, "There's a Rumor Around," written by Ronnie Kemper, vocalist with the orchestra, will be premiered.

Ethel Merman, torrid Broadway singing star; Walter Pidgeon, movie actor, and Albert Ammons and Pete Johnson, mad boogie-woogie pianists, are last minute additions to the glittering cast scheduled for the "Treasury Hour" Tuesday, at 8 p. m. over WJZ.

A defendant who almost became a corpse himself will highlight "Famous Jury Trials" on Tuesday, at 9 p. m. over WJZ.

The case to be dramatized is the trial of Robert Hunt for the murder of Lawrence Poole. A few hours after he had sold his car to Hunt, a used car dealer, for $500 Poole was found murdered and robbed in a roadside ditch. Highlight of the trial is the introduction of a witness who had himself tried to kill Hunt the same afternoon Poole was murdered.
