

Met Opera Lyric Soprano Is On "Great Moments In Music"

Stella Andreeva Joins Stars In Presenting Favorite
Airs Of Offenbach's "Tales Of Hoffmann"
At 10:15 Over WABC

Stella Andreeva, lyric soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, will make her first appearance on "Great Moments In Music" to join Jean Tennyson, Suzanne Sten, William Hain and Robert Weede in presenting favorite airs from Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffmann", conducted by George Sebastian, over WABC on Wednesday at 10:15 p. m.

William Hain will sing the tenor role of Hoffmann in the musical story of the young poet and his disillusioning love affairs. Miss Tennyson, soprano, will sing the roles of Antonia and Giulietta, and Miss Andreeva will be heard as Olympia.

A reshuffling of WABC programs on Wednesday night shifts "Meet Mr. Meek" from his usual 7:30 p. m. spot to 8 to 8:30 p. m. the same night.

"Meet Mr. Meek" is to occupy the spot hitherto given over to the Edward G. Robinson show. Meantime, the Robinson show moves to 9:30 to 10 p. m. Thursday night, occupying half of the full hour when Major Bowes and his amateurs are usually heard. The Bowes show has been trimmed to half an hour, thus making room for Robinson immediately afterward.

Eddie Cantor will turn swash-buckler for a guest star tilt with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., on the "Time to Smile" program over WJAF on Wednesday at 9 p. m. Also on the guest list is Carlos Romeros, young opera tenor.

Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator and federal coordinator of health activities, will deliver a 15-minute broadcast on Wednesday at 9:15 p. m. over WOR, on behalf of the 1912 "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign and the President's Diamond Jubilee birthday celebration.
