

Great Profile Host To Edna May Oliver In Vallee Skit

Barrymore Invites Comedienne To Dude Ranch;
Andy Devine Returns To Al Pearce Show
As Guest Star

Even the wide open spaces of a dude ranch can't provide John Barrymore with escape from Edna May Oliver. The Great Profile discovers the fact to his discomfort when Maw Oliver comes a visitin' with her son Rudy Vallee to the Barrymore Ranchere on Thursday, at 10 p. m. over WEAFL.

Father John is patting himself on the back that here, at last, he is far from babbling voices, when daughter Joan Davis bounces into his sanctuary and announces the arrival of uninvited guests.

Andy Devine returns to the Al Pearce Gang as guest of honor Thursday at 7:30 p. m. over WEAFL. Arlene Harris, the human chatterbox, will present one of her fast-talking monologues, and Artie Auerbach will be on hand to present one of his "Kitzel" ep-sodes. Margaret Lenhart, "Cinderella" girl singer, will present "I Got It Bad and That Ain't Good," Gail Laughton does a swing harp arrangement of "I Got Rhythm."

Lawyer Sam Aldrich finds it not in the cards to play bridge, when it takes him all evening to drive Henry and his date to the country club dance, in "The Aldrich Family," starring Ezra Stone, over WEAFL Thursday at 8:30 p. m.

Frank Fay will match wits with a New England schoolteacher on his program Thursday at 10:30 p. m. over WEAFL. That shouldn't seem tough competition for the ace of ad libbers but he's due to get his come-uppance in no uncertain terms. Fay will be told to eschew his reminiscences about his rowdy childhood friends. Charlie Cranafranz, Manny Frantatos and Phyllis Hortenfoile, on the grounds that his rowdy tales are not good for the morale of school children. Buck Rogers, Fay will learn, is infinitely preferable! Frank also will offer another satire on a popular song's lyrics. Music will be supplied by Soloist Bob Hannon; Beverly and her Bay Friends, vocal group, and Harry Salter's orchestra.

Switching its broadcast night to Thursday over WABC, the "Big Town" program, starring Edward G. Robinson, will produce a powerful and exciting reckless driving show entitled "A Devil Rides At Your Elbow," on that date. The production will be presented from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

Bing Crosby will play host to both the Army and the movies on Thursday at 9 p. m. over WEAFL, when the doors of the "Kraft Music Hall" swings wide for Actress Lucille Ball and Major Thomas Power of the West Coast Air Corps training center.
