

How To Win The War Slated Be Col. Kernan's Subject

Speakers Will Air Offensive Operation Views
While Best Seller Author Will Back The Launching Of A Major Drive

Col. W. F. Kernan, whose best-seller book, "Defense Win the War," has aroused nationwide comment and controversy, will be one of four distinguished speakers on the subject, "How Should America Take the Offensive" during America's Town Meeting of the Air at 9 p. m. on WJZ on Thursday.

The other speakers will be Edmond Taylor, author of "The Road to Terror", and a member of the Office of the Coordinator of Information; William B. Ziff, publisher of "Fly-By-Night Popular Aviation," and an unofficial member of the War Relocation Commission which visited England recently, and William D. Puleston, former Director of Naval Intelligence who during the first World War, commanded the USS Mississippi and a squadron of destroyers.

Author of "The Forces of the Pacific" Kernan's just-published book is available to the Quarter-

Col. Kernan, now stationed at Camp Bowie, Tex., with his forces, will take the view that the offensive must be launched this year if the Axis is to be defeated. Taylor, a former newspaper correspondent, will discuss the elements of a psychological war and will describe methods used by the Germans in their propaganda. Ziff will discuss the importance of aviation.

while Capt. Puleston will comment on various aspects of offensive strategy.

Henry Aldrich flunks his Medieval Europe but makes history when his folks visit Centerville high school in "The Aldrich Family," starring Ezra Stone over WJZ at 8:30 p. m.

Henry would have worried less over Viola Farnsworth's turning him down on a date, and more over history, had he known that his parents planned to attend Parents' Day exercises.

A chance to redeem the honor of the family and his own pride presents itself when Henry is pitted against Viola in a spelling bee. Can you spell a-c-q-u-i-e-s-c-e-n-c-e? Then you can imagine what Henry comes up against in this latest chapter of Clifford Goldsmith's comedy.

Music for the program is to be played by Jack Miller's orchestra. Harry Von Zell will announce.

Constance Bennett, glamorous movie blonde, will pose as a phony countess when she pays a guest call to the Rudy Vallee-John Barrymore broadcast at 10 p. m. over WJZ. John Barrymore keeps her company as a funny no-account.

"Return Engagement" they call their play of the week, in which we find Rudy once again enamored of wacky Joan Davis. He harbors a dream of making her the darling of society and this is how he thinks it can be managed: He will give his beloved "the biggest engagement ring in the world" and throw a huge reception for the presentation ceremony. The envy and admiration of the elite thus aroused, Joan will be taken into the arms of the 400.

This is where the bogus count and countess come in. Frayed members of the light-fingered gentry, they hear about the deal and plan to take over the "ice" for themselves.

Once at the reception, Countess Connie sets out to tutor Joan in the ways of society, while Count John goes about the delicate business of snatching the ring. For further particulars, consult your receiving set.
